Learn Shakespeare’s Handwriting

Workshop will be taught by Myrna Rosen, Adjunct professor in Carnegie Mellon’s School of Design, and Instructor of Calligraphy at the Pittsburgh Center for the arts.

This workshop explores the handwriting of Shakespeare’s time – both how to read it and how to write it. World renowned expert Myrna Rosen will present a demonstration and lead a practice of Shakespeare Hand.

Take this opportunity to practice reading and scribing a Shakespearean passage or recipe and learn how to read 16th and early 17th century records!

Hands-on Workshop:
Saturday, November 5th, 2016
2:00pm – 4:00pm
Margaret Morrison Hall, Room 203

Refreshments provided!
