Regent Square is on the city’s border, east of Downtown and surrounded by Point Breeze, Squirrel Hill and Swisshelm Park. The neighborhood has easy access to the Parkway East, as well as Braddock and Forbes Avenues.

The neighborhood’s proximity to parks, especially Frick Park, and interesting commercial areas add to its appeal. It’s also just a few blocks from the restaurants and shops at Edgewood Towne Center.

Regent Square’s attractive family homes, which sit along wide streets, offer residents an array of architectural styles. The abundance of trees gives the neighborhood a park-like quality.

Regent Square is a family neighborhood. Its residents often spend their leisure time taking advantage of recreational activities at Frick Park.