Definitions:

Degree Disciplines: All degree disciplines are categorized according to their Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP) code

Arts: Includes Architecture and related services; visual and performing arts

Business: Includes business, management, marketing, and related support services

Computer and Information Sciences (CIS): Includes computer and information sciences and support services

Engineering: Includes engineering; engineering technologies/technicians

Humanities and Social Sciences: Includes area, ethnic, cultural, and gender studies; communication, journalism, and related programs; communications technologies/technicians and support services; foreign languages, literatures, and linguistics; English language and literature/letters; liberal arts and sciences, general studies and humanities; philosophy and religious studies; theology and religious vocations; psychology; social sciences; history

Mathematics: Includes biological and biomedical sciences; mathematics and statistics; physical sciences

Other: Includes agriculture, agriculture operations, and related sciences; natural resources and conservation; personal and culinary services; education; family and consumer sciences/human sciences; legal professions and studies; library science; military technologies; multi/interdisciplinary studies; parks, recreation, leisure, and fitness studies; science technologies/technicians; security and protective services; construction trades; mechanic repair technologies/technicians; precision production; transportation and materials moving; health professions and related clinical sciences

Public Administration: Includes public administration and social services professions

Enrollment: Carnegie Mellon enrollment figures do not include Qatar enrollment per IPEDS reporting guidelines

Expenditures: Includes the following institutional expenses: instruction, research, public service, academic support, student services, and institutional support

Faculty Compensation: Sum of salaries and benefits; not adjusted for cost of living

Federal Grant Aid: Includes grants that were provided by federal agencies such as the U.S. Department of Education, including Title IV Pell Grants and Supplemental Educational Opportunity Grants (SEOGs). Also includes need-based and merit-based educational assistance funds and training vouchers provided from other federal agencies and/or federally-sponsored educational benefits programs, including the Veteran's Administration, Department of Labor, etc.

First-time, First-year Retention Rate: The percent of first-year students who return for their second year

Institutional Grant Aid: Includes scholarships and fellowships that were granted and funded by the institution and/or individual departments within the institution (and are limited to students attending the institution). Also includes tuition and fee waivers granted by the institution (for which the institution is not reimbursed from another source). These would include scholarships targeted to certain groups of individuals (from a particular state or studying a certain subject) for which the institution designated the recipient; athletic scholarships; etc.

SAT 25th-75th Percentile Range: The SAT scores for the middle 50% of first-time, first-year students

Six-year Graduation Rate: The percent of first-time first-year students who graduate within six years

State/Local Grant Aid: Includes grants that were provided by the state such as Leveraging Educational Assistance Partnerships (LEAP) (formerly SSIGs). Also includes merit scholarships that were provided by the state and tuition and fee waivers for which the institution was reimbursed by a state agency. Local grants would include any local government grants, scholarships, or gift-aid that are awarded directly to the student.

Student Loan Aid: Includes all Title IV subsidized and unsubsidized loans made directly to students and for which the student is the designated borrower. (Include Perkins Loans made to students.) Excludes PLUS and other loans made directly to parents and for which the parent is the designated borrower. Also includes all institutionally- and privately-sponsored loans made to students, for which the student is the designated borrower (as long as the funds pass through the financial aid office).

Student to Faculty Ratio: The total full-time equivalent (FTE) enrollment of students divided by the total full-time equivalent (FTE) of instructional faculty. For this calculation, FTE is equal to full-time headcount plus one-third part-time headcount.
