Pre-Orientation Guide PDF
June 2017

On behalf of the Division of Student Affairs, welcome to the Carnegie Mellon University community. With this booklet of information in your hands, you might be feeling any number of emotions: relief, excitement, anxiety or curiosity. There is a great deal to take in with this booklet. Please take your time and read through. You are embarking on an amazing academic journey, and Carnegie Mellon considers parents and family members as essential partners in supporting your success at Carnegie Mellon.

Carnegie Mellon’s new student Orientation is an extensive full-week program that will focus on academics, tradition and community. Through formal and informal meetings with academic advisors and faculty members, programming within your residence halls, participation in traditional ceremonies and events and engaging in community building activities, you will learn the values of scholarship and community living. The theme for this year’s program, Embark, is designed to help you create vibrant and meaningful memories of your first week on campus. Your engagement with Orientation Counselors, Resident Assistants, faculty, staff, alumni and even more importantly, with other new students, will help lay the foundation for your first year. The Orientation program aims to strengthen your connection to the university and provide you with a comprehensive set of personal and educational programs and resources that will assist you in making a successful transition to our vibrant community. We are here to help you capture new experiences and opportunities as you begin your Carnegie Mellon journey. Ahead of you lay unlimited possibilities!

Anne Witchner Levin
Assistant Dean of Student Affairs
Director of Orientation and Family Programs
In the next few months, you will be embarking on one of the greatest adventures of your life: becoming a member of the Carnegie Mellon community. Whether you’re coming to campus from across the street or from halfway around the world, being a part of a university community is a journey. We, the 2017 Orientation staff, are here to help you begin this incredible voyage and to become adjusted to what we hope will become your home. The Orientation Counselors (OCs), Orientation Leaders (OLs) and Head Orientation Counselors (HOCs) are thrilled to welcome you.

Your first year at Carnegie Mellon will be filled with endless possibilities, considering the many clubs, events and programs that CMU has to offer. In addition, Pittsburgh has so many unique experiences to offer, whether it be sailing on the river or visiting our city’s many museums. There is so much to explore and do; this is truly a place where you can be yourself and investigate all of your interests. You will be surrounded by support and resources from faculty, staff, current students and new friends within both your residential and college communities. These connections will help you connect the dots between what excites you and achieving success at Carnegie Mellon.

We could not be more thrilled to have you join the Carnegie Mellon community. We are excited to see what you, the class of 2021+, will do to make your mark.

We hope that as you begin this new chapter of your life, you will embark on new paths and explore new possibilities. Your journey starts here, so be ready to laugh, explore, work and join the Carnegie Mellon community!

We can’t wait to meet you in August!

With all our Tartan love,

Apeksha, Emily, Jeff, Katelyn, Mikaela, Nate and Ricardo
We have prepared a list of things that can be done before you arrive or that may be helpful to know before making your way to campus. Throughout the booklet, there are phone numbers and websites that you can contact or visit if you need more information or have questions.

What to Bring for Your New Room

The following lists are designed to provide you with some general information regarding what to pack before you leave your home. Remember, you will not need everything that you own. Also, be sure to coordinate with your roommate or roommates to find out what they are bringing to eliminate duplicate items in the room.

Relearning the ABCs

HOC Head Orientation Counselor

There are seven undergraduate students dedicated to planning the programs and events that are going to make your Orientation an unforgettable college experience. They are determined to make your transition to college life an exceptional experience!

OL Orientation Leader

Each HOC has their team of returning Orientation Counselors who are chosen to take on a leadership role and additional responsibilities during Orientation. These veteran OCs arrive before the rest of the OC staff to assist the HOCs in preparing for Orientation.

OC Orientation Counselor

Our OC staff is made up of 150+ students who are here to introduce you to the Carnegie Mellon community and to show you everything our university and city have to offer. OCs are friendly, reliable and as eclectic as your first-year class. Feel free to approach them with any questions you may have. They will act as your guides to campus life throughout the week of Orientation and will serve as invaluable resources even after Orientation has come to an end.

In-Room Delivery!

Carnegie Mellon’s Student Dormitory Council (SDC) and the University Stores have teamed up with Bed Bath & Beyond to make move-in day easier!

Order your room essentials and extras by July 31 at bbby.com/cmu to have your items delivered directly to your room by SDC before you arrive. Be sure to go to the special CMU site, not the regular Bed Bath & Beyond site, if you want in-room delivery. (The special delivery address at our Penn Avenue facility will auto-populate only on the special CMU site.) Orders placed after July 31 will be delivered through the regular campus package process.

Plan to shop at the Bed Bath & Beyond pop-up store on Move-In Day for any of your “last minute,” “left at home,” “too big to travel” items.

bbby.com/cmu
What's Already in the Room?
Every residence hall room or apartment comes with the following items for each resident:
- Bed with 39” x 80” extra-long mattress (you need to bring your own linens)
- Desk and chair
- Bookshelf or hutch (as applicable)
- Closet or wardrobe
- Dresser
- Safety rails and ladder for lofted or bunked bed
- Window coverings
- High-speed network/internet access (wired and/or wireless connection depending on housing facility)
- Basic Cable TV service with activated cable TV jack (you supply the TV) and IPTV Service
- Phone jacks are not active in student rooms. There are centrally located community phones available in each area. Use of cell phones is encouraged for personal use.

The Essentials
You should definitely bring the following items with you when you move in:
- Alarm clock
- Backpack
- Clothes (Remember, it gets cold in Pittsburgh!)
- Clothes hangers
- Desk lamp
- Laundry basket/bag and laundry soap
- Linens and towels (sheets, pillows, washcloths, etc.)
- Mugs, cups, plates, utensils
- Storage bins
- Toiletries (soap, shampoo, toothpaste, toothbrush, deodorant, etc.)
- Umbrella
- University documents

The Extras
You may want to consider some of the following optional items as well:
- Bicycle and bike lock
- Camera
- Computer
- Fan
- Games
- Headphones
- Iron
- Microwave*
- Power strip/surge protector
- Refrigerator
- Stereo/CD player
- TV

What NOT to Bring
The items listed below are not permitted in university housing and should definitely be left at home:
- Air conditioners (unless approved by Health Services)
- Candles/incense
- Hot plates or pressure cookers
- Hoverboards
- Pets (except for fish in an aquarium or service dogs)
- Space heater
- Swimming pools or hot tubs
- Waterbeds

CA and RA
Community Advisor and Resident Assistant
These undergraduate leaders will live on your residential floor and in your residential building to assist you throughout the year. Community Advisors and Resident Assistants can help you navigate through both the Carnegie Mellon and Pittsburgh communities and answer any questions that you may have along the way. They will also plan programs to encourage interaction among residential students and aid in connecting residents to numerous on-campus resources and services.

HF Housefellow
Housefellows are members of the Division of Student Affairs staff who are responsible for a specific residential population known as a house. Each staff member works with a team of student staff members consisting of a Community Advisor and Resident Assistants to enhance the lives of their residents. Housefellows are able to assist you with personal, academic or professional support and can serve as a resource for promoting your personal and academic success.

*Microwaves must be compact and operate under 700 watts.
Refrigerators must be smaller than 4.5 cubic feet and operate on 110/120 VAC. Microfridge units are also available for rent through The Melvin Group.
AlcoholEdu+Haven
Carnegie Mellon University expects all new undergraduate students to complete two online courses: AlcoholEdu for College+Haven, as part of our comprehensive alcohol abuse and sexual violence prevention programs. These courses will open on July 24 and must be completed by August 21, 2017. All students will receive an email invitation with instructions when the course opens. For details, visit cmu.edu/health-services/alcohol/AlcoholEdu.html.

Banking at Carnegie Mellon University
PNC Bank makes it easier for Carnegie Mellon students to keep track of their money. PNC has convenient on-campus locations, with nine ATMs and even a Customer Service Center on the lower level of Cohon Center. Plus, PNC offers Virtual Wallet® Student, with easy to use checking and saving accounts and interactive tools to help students develop solid money management skills.

For even more convenience, you can use your ID Card as an ATM card if you choose to link it to your PNC Bank account. You’ll need only one card to get into your residence hall, pay for meals, do your laundry, get cash at ATMs and more!

PNC Bank ATMs on Campus
• Cohon University Center, 1st floor – two ATMs (one accepts deposits)
• Cohon University Center, lower level – two ATMs (accept deposits)
• Morewood Gardens – The Underground
• Wean Hall – 5th floor lobby
• Tepper School of Business – 1st floor rear entrance
• Gates Building – 3rd floor
• Hunt Library – 1st floor

PNC Bank Offices on and near Campus
• PNC Customer Service Center
  Cohon University Center, lower level
• Craig Street Branch – 4600 Fifth Avenue
• Oakland Branch – 4022 Fifth Avenue
• Squirrel Hill Branch – 5810 Forbes Avenue

To learn more, or to open an account, visit PNC Bank during Orientation, or any PNC Bank branch — including the campus location on the lower level of the Cohon University Center. You can also visit us online at pnc.com/carnegiemellon, or call 1-877-PNC-1000.

Computing on Campus
Before you arrive on campus, review the information below to help you prepare for computing at Carnegie Mellon.

Wi-Fi Network
Once you arrive on campus, connect to the wireless network. Find CMU-SECURE in your Wi-Fi list and log in using your Andrew user ID and password. To locate computer labs, set up printing to public printers and learn about other computing resources available to you visit cmu.edu/computing/students.

Need Computing Help?
The Computing Services Help Center is available to answer your computer-related questions, Monday-Friday, 7 a.m.–7 p.m., 412-268-4357 (HELP) or it-help@cmu.edu. Walk-in hours are available 9 a.m.–5 p.m. in Cyert Hall 119.

Your Andrew Account
Your Andrew account is your gateway to the computing environment at Carnegie Mellon. Your account gives you access to email, network registration, Computing Services public computer labs and other resources. For more information, visit cmu.edu/computing/students.

Check Your Email
As a student, official Carnegie Mellon email will be sent to your Andrew email address. Once you know your Andrew user ID and have set your Andrew account password, you can access your email at email.cmu.edu. It is important to check your email regularly.

Prepare Your Computer
For your convenience, public computer labs are available across campus and offer a variety of Windows, Mac and Linux computers, peripherals and an extensive complement of software. When bringing your own computer, be aware of which operating systems that we support and of free software available for you to download or access remotely. If purchasing a new computer, contact our campus Computer Store staff (bookstore.web.cmu.edu > Computer Sales) for help and advice. You should also secure your computer prior to arriving on campus and connecting to the Carnegie Mellon network. For more information, visit cmu.edu/computing/students.

PNC BANK, NATIONAL ASSOCIATION. MEMBER FDIC.
Health Insurance Requirements
All full-time students must have health insurance that meets the university's requirements. The university offers Aetna student health insurance as well as optional vision and dental insurance plans. Students will be charged a health insurance fee for the Aetna Student insurance plan. This fee will appear on the first semester invoice.

Students MUST take one of the following actions by SEPTEMBER 11, 2017:
1. Enroll in the health insurance plan offered by the university; or
2. Apply for a waiver, verifying that you already have health insurance that meets the university's requirements.

Insurance requirement details, as well as enrollment and waiver information are available at cmu.edu/health-services/student-insurance.

Immunization Requirements
All incoming students must complete an online immunization form, documenting required immunizations by June 30, 2017. A list of required immunizations and more details are available at cmu.edu/health-services/immunization. The online immunization form can be accessed by logging into HealthConnect with an Andrew ID, through cmu.edu/health-services. Failure to comply with the university's immunization requirement will result in administrative suspension and removal from University Housing.

The HUB – Student Service Center
The HUB staff delivers comprehensive service and counsel to students and families regarding financial aid, billing, payments, registration and academic records. The HUB is located on the lower level of Warner Hall. For general questions and information, you may email thehub@andrew.cmu.edu, call 412-268-8186 during office hours or visit cmu.edu/hub.

The assistant directors in The HUB serve as liaisons for specific colleges and assist enrolled students with key aspects of the enrollment process. You can find your assigned HUB liaison on your Student Information Online (SIO) Resource page or on The HUB website at cmu.edu/hub/contacts.html.

Andrew User ID and Student ID Number
Your Andrew user ID and password provide access to numerous campus resources. To check your Carnegie Mellon email, receive important information, and gain access to computing services, you need to set your password and check your email daily. Please see the Computing Services website to set your password at cmu.edu/computing/start/students.html. Your Student ID Number can be found on the My Info screen in Student Information Online (SIO) at cmu.edu/hub/sio.

Student Information Online (SIO)
Student Information Online (SIO) serves as your student profile and you should ensure it is kept up-to-date with your family's most recent contact information. You will log in to cmu.edu/hub/sio using your Andrew user ID and password to:
• View grades, QPA and enrollment status
• Order transcripts and verifications
• Plan your course schedule and complete course registration activities (for Spring 2018 and beyond)
• View financial aid details, including awards, application status and federal loan information
• View student account invoices and activity
• Make payments via Online Banking and designate a bank account for electronic refunds
• Manage family and friend contact information and invite individuals to view your student account invoices, make payments and order verifications through My Plaid Student
• View housing and meal plan assignments

ID Card and Plaid Cash
One of the most important items you will need at Carnegie Mellon is your official ID Card. This photo identification card classifies you as a member of the Carnegie Mellon community and will be part of your everyday campus life. You will use your card to access certain buildings and services, including public transportation.

In order for your ID Card to be ready for pickup on the first day of Orientation, be sure to submit your photo online by July 10, 2017 by visiting cmu.edu/idplus. Students who do not submit a photo by the deadline or at all will need to visit The HUB in Warner Hall upon arriving to campus to have a photo taken and ID Card produced. Please note that Orientation is a peak time in The HUB, so lines may be long.

One feature of your ID Card is Plaid Cash. Plaid Cash is a prepaid, stored-value/debit account that is accessible via your ID Card. It can be used to pay for textbooks and school supplies. Plaid Cash is accepted by some of the area's most popular restaurants and retail stores. Questions about ID Cards and Plaid Cash may be directed to The HUB at idplus@andrew.cmu.edu or 412-268-8186. Learn more at cmu.edu/idplus/plaidcash.
Student Financial Services
Student account invoices are produced on the last calendar day of each month and include all posted activity for current and future semesters. When your invoice is ready to be viewed on Student Information Online (SIO), an email will be sent to your Andrew email account. You will be notified of your first invoice June 30, 2017.

A variety of payment options are available for Carnegie Mellon students and families. The fastest, most convenient way for you to make a payment to your student account or to receive a refund from the university is through Online Banking. Simply register your U.S. checking or savings account in SIO to use this free service.

If your parent or another individual would like to view student account invoices and activity, as well as make payments, we encourage you to invite them to use My Plaid Student. Learn more at cmu.edu/hub.

The HUB and Student Financial Aid Office work together to provide students and families a high level of customer service and effective, efficient delivery of financial assistance from federal, state, private and institutional sources. Learn more about financial aid at Carnegie Mellon at cmu.edu/finaid.

Academic and Registration Information
If you have questions about schedule changes, transfer credits or other issues regarding course registration, you can speak with your associate deans/advisors on academic day, which is Thursday during Orientation Week. You may also want to double check your schedule before the first day of classes to make sure you know where to go and to see if any classroom changes have occurred at the last minute. You can check your schedule on the Course Schedule screen at cmu.edu/hub/sio.

Student Privacy and FERPA
Carnegie Mellon University respects the privacy of student educational records and complies with the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act. In accordance with FERPA, this policy communicates students’ rights with respect to educational records. The policy applies to all Carnegie Mellon University students, faculty, staff and school officials.

Postal Services
CMU Postal Services is a full-service USPS contract post office owned and operated by Carnegie Mellon University on the lower level of Cohon University Center. Postal Services offers a wide range of products and services, such as stamps, postage, mailing boxes, envelopes, tape, USPS forms and money orders. Whatever your mailing requirements, CMU Postal Services is your one-stop destination for all of your domestic and international shipping and mailing needs.

Your New Carnegie Mellon Address:
Please use the following address (“xxxx” is your four-digit Student Mail Code or SMC) for all of your USPS, FedEx, UPS and DHL deliveries:

Student Name
Carnegie Mellon University
SMC xxxx
5032 Forbes Avenue
Pittsburgh, PA 15289-xxxx

Note! When you are forwarding mail from your permanent address to your Carnegie Mellon address (via a United States Postal Service Official Mail Forwarding Form, available from usps.com), you must place your SMC # on line 7a of the form. If you fail to do so, the delivery of your mail may be delayed and cannot be guaranteed.

What is a Student Mail Code (SMC)?
All incoming freshmen are assigned a four-digit Student Mail Code (SMC) that matches a mailbox in university Postal Services, which is located on the lower level of the Cohon Center. Your SMC code will be used to route all USPS, FedEx, DHL, UPS mail, parcels and campus mail to your student mailbox and/or the package pickup window.

How do I get my SMC and post office box combination?
After you are enrolled, go to Student Information Online (SIO) at cmu.edu/hub/sio under the My Info tab to retrieve your SMC and post office box combination. Please make sure that you’ve retrieved this information prior to coming to Postal Services to get your mail and packages. No information on SMCs and post office box combinations will be provided at Postal Service’s front counter or at the package pickup window.
What happens with my mail during summer and semester breaks?
If you are a returning student, we will automatically hold all mail and packages for you. If you choose, we will also forward your mail for you. You can find CMU Postal Services mail forwarding request forms at Postal Services’ front counter. Temporary forwards stay in effect until you notify us by email at post-office@andrew.cmu.edu of your return to campus. We accept no temporary or permanent forwarding requests by phone, only in person or by email at post-office@andrew.cmu.edu.

Textbooks & Course Materials
Textbooks are an integral part of the learning process. The University Store manages the textbook adoption process for the campus and facilitates the delivery and distribution of course materials on campus. We want you to have the materials you need to be successful in your courses.

We are updating our process to provide even more services this fall. Whether you want to purchase a new or used book, rent a book, purchase digital content or a custom course pack, we will be able to deliver what you need. We will even show online marketplace options for your books so you can purchase elsewhere if you choose to do so. Visit bookstore.web.cmu.edu and choose Textbooks for more information. For questions about textbooks, please call 412-268-5591 or email books@andrew.cmu.edu.

For Art majors, the Art Store is your go-to place for course materials. Some classes have art kits that can save you money over buying things separately. The Art Store staff is knowledgeable, friendly and here to help.

English Placement for Nonnative English Speakers
All nonnative English speakers are required to take an online writing placement test before classes begin. If you have not yet participated in the placement, you will not be able to complete your First-Year Writing course requirement offered by the English Department. Email Dr. Danielle Wetzel at engfirst@andrew.cmu.edu to register.

5. Students can review their schedule online in the first week of August.
6. Students who are eligible to take the Calculus Assessment during orientation should sign up online by August 9.
7. Students with questions about their schedule may contact Dr. Carrie Hagan, BXA first-year advisor, at 412-268-8326 or csh@andrew.cmu.edu.
8. Any schedule changes can be done in person during Orientation Week.

College of Engineering
1. Early June: Students will be enrolled in an engineering Canvas course that contains important information about placement tests, AP/IB credit and course registration.
2. June: Your first-year academic advisor will contact you to discuss registration, timelines and other steps you need to complete prior to coming to campus.
3. Mid July: Students submit a draft of proposed class schedule for approval.
4. Late July: Students register for classes online.
5. July-August: Students can opt to enroll in the Computing@Carnegie Mellon online course (C@CM).
6. Orientation Week: Optional math placement exams are available (if eligible); resolve any scheduling issues in person with advisor.

Academic Registration
College of Fine Arts (CFA)

Architecture
1. Students will receive an email to their personal email accounts in early June directing them to activate their CMU email accounts.
2. Placement exams will be conducted in June/early July. Students who speak English as a second language are REQUIRED to take the online English Placement test.
3. Students will then be emailed information regarding the supplies needed to start their first year in the School of Architecture, the mentoring program in architecture, instructions to join the AIAS and computer requirements.
4. All first-year architecture students will be registered into their required courses by Erica Harp, School of Architecture Academic Advisor.
5. Students with questions may contact Heather Workinger Midgley, First-Year Faculty Advisor, at haw5@cmu.edu.

Art
For their first semester at Carnegie Mellon, School of Art students are preregistered for the majority of their classes. Students will be contacted over the summer to rank their preferences for mediums for their introductory sculpture course. Students can check their schedules online in advance of the term and will receive a copy during Orientation in August. Students with questions may contact Mark Cato at 412-268-1531 or mdcato@andrew.cmu.edu.

Design
1. Upon acceptance, all first-year Design students are encouraged to join Facebook Group “CMU Design Class of 2021.”
2. By early June, Melissa Cicozi, Design Academic Advisor, will email all first-years using their CMU email addresses.
3. Throughout the summer, students will receive important course registration and supply lists via both email and Facebook.
4. Design students share a common first semester and are preregistered for all of their courses.
5. Students with questions may contact Melissa Cicozi at cicozi@cmu.edu.

Drama
For their first semester at Carnegie Mellon, School of Drama students have a set curriculum and are pre-registered for classes. Amy Nichols will register students for classes during the last two weeks of July. After August 5, students will be able to view their schedules through the SIO website. Students with questions may contact Amy Nichols at 412-268-1581 or nicholsa@andrew.cmu.edu.

Music
1. Students are emailed enrollment information by the first week of June.
2. Students will send special requests for courses electronically by the first week of July.
3. All first-year music students will be registered for most of their courses by the School of Music by the first week of August.
4. On August 8, Students can review their schedules online.
5. If a student is not registered for any courses by August 8, please contact Sharon Johnston at slj@andrew.cmu.edu or 412-268-2385 by August 15.
6. Orientation Week: Students will take placement tests in harmony and solfege, and their schedules will be completed.

Dietrich College (DC) of Humanities and Social Sciences
1. In mid-June, students will receive a welcome letter from their Dietrich College Academic Advisor that will contain information regarding the Class of 2021 Facebook page, contact information for their Dietrich peer mentor and instructions for accessing a course in Canvas that contains all of the information and tools students will need to plan their fall schedule.
2. Students should begin to work through this course as soon as they are able. Upon completion, students may begin scheduling one-on-one appointments with their academic advisor (in person, phone or Skype) to discuss their backgrounds, interests and a general plan for a fall schedule.
3. Once they've received advisor approval, students will register for classes in late July.

Humanities Scholars Program (HSP)
1. HSP students are invited into the program when admitted to Dietrich College.
2. After accepting admittance into the program, scholars may elect to join affinity housing with other HSP classmates through the Housing Office.
3. All HSP students are enrolled in a fall semester HSP specific Freshman Seminar.
4. Students should work with their Academic Advisor to create a fall schedule throughout the summer.
5. HSP students are welcome to contact the director at any time before they matriculate. Otherwise, they will have the opportunity to meet him during Orientation Week. Tim Haggerty, director of the HSP Program, can be reached at 412-268-6211 or via email at th1h@andrew.cmu.edu.
Quantitative Social Science Scholars Program (QSSS)
1. QSSS students are invited into the program when admitted to Dietrich College, based on their expressed interest, aptitude and achievements in quantitative fields of study.
2. After accepting admittance into the program, scholars may elect to join affinity housing with other QSSS classmates through the Housing Office.
3. All QSSS students are enrolled in a fall semester QSSS specific Freshman Seminar.
4. Students should work with their Academic Advisor to create a fall schedule throughout the summer.
5. QSSS students are welcome to contact the director at any time before they matriculate. Otherwise, they will have the opportunity to meet him during Orientation Week. Mark Patterson, director of the QSSS Program, can be reached at 412-268-5680 or via email at mpatters@andrew.cmu.edu.

Mellon College of Science (MCS)
1. By June 12: Students receive a welcome message that informs them about how to access online course registration materials. These messages are sent via CMU email and postal mail.
2. During the first three weeks of June, Drs. Maggie Braun and Ken Hovis will offer multiple live webinars to welcome students, outline course registration and answer questions via a live chat feed (not mandatory to attend, but will be very helpful).
3. July 7: Students MUST submit an online course registration form by this date. Students are registered for courses on a first-come, first-served basis.
4. June to July: Students who speak English as a second language MUST take the online English Placement exam. Students can opt to enroll in the Computing@Carnegie Mellon online course (C@CM) and/or take an optional Computer Science placement exam.
5. July 17 to August 11: Drs. Maggie Braun and Ken Hovis will register students for their classes from July 17 through August 11. Schedule changes will not be made during this period.
6. August 12: Students can review their schedules online and begin to request schedule changes. If a student does not have a schedule by this date, they should contact Dr. Maggie Braun at mabraun@andrew.cmu.edu or 412-268-6679.
7. Orientation Week: Students can opt to take a calculus or physics placement exam (if eligible). Students can meet with Drs. Braun and Hovis in person to discuss scheduling concerns.

School of Computer Science (SCS)
1. Jacobo Carrasquel, the SCS freshman advisor, will contact the students via email by the end of May.
2. Many documents, forms, placement tests and important information will be provided incrementally throughout the summer months. Step-by-step instructions are available at cs.cmu.edu/~jxc/advising.

Science and Humanities Scholars (SHS) Program
1. Science and Humanities Scholars receive course registration information at their Carnegie Mellon Andrew email accounts in early June.
2. SHS students complete placement exams and express course preferences by early July.
3. The SHS program director and senior academic advisor register students for classes throughout July.
4. SHS students can review their schedules online in early August.
5. Schedule issues, including changes, can be discussed with Dr. William Alba, the SHS program director, and Veronica Peet, the SHS senior academic advisor, throughout the summer and during Orientation Week. Alba’s office is Doherty Hall 2201 and he can be reached by email alba@cmu.edu. Peet can be reached by email at vpeet@andrew.cmu.edu.

During Orientation Week, as well as throughout their college careers, SHS students are welcome to all events for MCS (Mellon College of Science) and DC (Dietrich College of Humanities & Social Sciences) students. The SHS Welcome Dinner occurs on Tuesday of Orientation Week.

Tepper School of Business (TPR)
In early June, incoming first-year Business students will receive a welcome email from the Undergraduate Business Administration Program. The email will direct them to a website that explains preparation for the fall semester, including creating a course schedule. The process timeline for students is as follows (with specific deadlines to be indicated later in the welcome email):
1. Mid-June: Students start working through the preparation website and providing information through the short surveys.
2. Late-June: Students may take optional placement exams for computer programming or language placement.
3. Early July: Students should have created a fall semester course plan online.
4. Mid-July: Students register for fall courses.
5. Orientation Week: Students may take optional placement exams and all will meet with their academic advisors.

Students with questions may call the Program office at 412-268-3719 or send email to uba@andrew.cmu.edu.
International Students

We will welcome new international students as they move in with their first-year classmates on Saturday, August 19. International students must attend a mandatory immigration information session and check-in, which will take place during the Welcome Day activities on Sunday, August 20.

The Office of International Education (OIE) will provide additional details, via an email to the student’s Andrew ID (Carnegie Mellon email address), about this session and other sessions of particular relevance to international students and their families in the coming months. A Settling In Guide, answers to Frequently Asked Questions and information about orientation are also posted on the OIE website at cmu.edu/oie.

International Students Move-In Day:
Saturday, August 19 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Mandatory Immigration Information and Check-In Session
Sunday, August 20
Move-In Day and Room Key Pickup

Saturday, August 19 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Complete details regarding the residence hall move-in and key pickup process will be available beginning August 1 at cmu.edu/housing (under First-Year Move-in Day) and studentaffairs.cmu.edu/first-year/orientation. Students who are unable to move in on Saturday, August 19 or Sunday August 20, must contact Housing Services at 412-268-2139.

Orientation Counselors, Resident Assistants and other staff and volunteers will be on-site and available to assist you while moving into your residence hall. There are four locations for residence hall move-in and key pickup:

Margaret Morrison Street Key Pickup
Enter the designated traffic pattern near the corner of Tech and Frew Streets (entering from Schenley Park) and proceed to the Margaret Morrison Street Key Pickup Tent if you reside in:
- Boss House
- Doherty House
- Donner House
- Hamerschlag House
- Henderson House
- Margaret Morrison Apartments
- McGill House
- Resnik House
- Roselawn Terrace Houses
- Scobell House
- Welch House
- West Wing
- Woodlawn Apartments

Morewood Key Pickup
Due to construction, residents will be provided more details about move-in by Housing Services if they reside in:
- Morewood Gardens
- Morewood E-Tower
- Mudge House
- Stever House

Residence on Fifth Key Pickup
Enter the designated traffic pattern near the corner of Fifth Avenue and South Neville Street and proceed to the Residence on Fifth Key Pickup Location if you reside in any Oakland apartment building:
- Clyde House
- Fairfax Apartments
- The Highlands Apartments
- Neville Apartments
- Residence on Fifth
- Shady Oak Apartments
- Shirley Apartments
- Webster Hall

Shirley Apartments Key Pickup
Enter the designated traffic patterns to proceed to the Shirley Apartments Key Pickup Location.

Note! If arriving on campus after 3 p.m. on August 19, go to the Housing Services office, located at the Residence on Fifth (4700 Fifth Avenue), to obtain your student ID, keys and Orientation materials. This office will be open 24 hours a day.

Sunday programming for guests and family ends at 5 p.m.

Commuter Students
Orientation is for all incoming first-year and new undergraduate students, whether living in a university residence hall or not. It is important that all students participate in the week-long program to help with the transition to Carnegie Mellon and to Pittsburgh. You will be assigned to an Orientation group and Orientation Counselors. A Welcome Reception will be held for you on Sunday, August 20.

Transfer Students
As a new undergraduate student to Carnegie Mellon, Orientation will be valuable in helping you with the transition to your new university. Whether you will be living on campus or not, you will be part of an Orientation group and paired with Orientation Counselors. A Welcome Reception will be held for you on Sunday, August 20.
Campus Resources

Personal Support

Carnegie Mellon is committed to supporting and fostering the intellectual and personal growth of all students. There are many resources, staff and departments that provide services and programs to enhance the intellectual, occupational, emotional, spiritual, physical and cultural growth of students.

Carnegie Mellon University Police Department
The CMUPD includes 24 sworn police officers, 42 security guards, five dispatchers, 15 transportation drivers and one business administrator. Our services include police patrols and call response, criminal investigations, shuttle and escort services, fixed guard and foot guard patrols, event security, dignitary protection, and crime prevention and educational programming.

The Police Department comprises two divisions. The Police Services Division consists of all police and dispatch related operations and personnel. The Special Services Division consists of security, transportation, technology and support. Each division is commanded by a police lieutenant and each patrol shift is supervised by one of four sergeants.

The Police Department responds to approximately 21,300 calls for service annually. We maintain a very low crime rate and our entire staff is committed to keeping the Carnegie Mellon community safe.

CMU Shuttle Service
The Carnegie Mellon shuttle service is a fixed-route, fixed-stop transportation option available to all CMU students, faculty and staff. Shuttle buses are assigned to different geographical areas around Carnegie Mellon. Shuttles service Oakland and Shadyside neighborhoods. Shadyside service extends to Shady Avenue for access to East Liberty businesses and restaurants. Daily, roundtrip service from campus to Bakery Square (Google headquarters) and the Pittsburgh Technology Center are also available. The Bakery Square shuttle operates 10 hours a day on weekdays. The PTC shuttle operates 16 hours a day during the week and 10 hours a day during the weekend.

Throughout Orientation week, new students will be involved in a wide variety of academic, social, cultural and recreational programs. Each day will be filled with opportunities and events that will help students get acclimated to both Carnegie Mellon and Pittsburgh.

Dining During Orientation
Beginning with lunch on Sunday, August 20, all of your meals during Orientation will be provided and covered by the cost of your Dining Plan. Dining Services works closely with the Orientation staff to serve exciting and delicious themed meals. Your regular dining plan, which is encoded on your student ID Card, begins at breakfast on Sunday, August 27.

Orientation Website
Make sure to check out the official Orientation website. During the summer you can visit the site to find answers to the most commonly asked questions. You can also ask your own questions and they’ll be answered by our experienced Orientation staff. When Orientation approaches, the website will expand to include a schedule of all the Orientation events as well as a variety of other tools to help you get the most out of the week.

Orientation Sneak Peek

Monday, August 21 – Sunday, August 27

[Image]
The CMU escort service is a transportation option that services the geographical areas surrounding Carnegie Mellon that include Squirrel Hill, Shadyside and Oakland. This is an evening and night time service that operates from 6:30 p.m. to 6:30 a.m. The mission of the escort service is to get CMU community members home safely by transporting them to the intersection nearest their residence. Service is limited to four (4) designated zones (green, blue, red and yellow) surrounding the main campus. The escort service is to be utilized exclusively as a means to get to one's residence. It is not available as a transportation option to get to campus or other locations.

The Center for Student Diversity and Inclusion
Located on the lower level of the Cohon Center, The Center for Student Diversity and Inclusion offers resources to enhance the student experience in dimensions such as access, success, campus climate and intergroup dialogue. Additionally, the center supports and connects historically underrepresented students and those who are first in their family to attend college in a setting where students' differences and talents are guided, appreciated and reinforced. Initiatives coordinated by the center include, but are not limited to:

- First Generation/First in Family to Attend College Programs
- LGBQ+ Programs
- Race and Ethnically-Focused Programs
- Transgender and Non-Binary Student Programs
- Womens Programs

Copying, Printing and Shipping Services
Tartan Ink
Tartan Ink is the university's copying and shipping center located on the lower level of Cohon University Center. For information, call 412-268-4828 or email tartanink@andrew.cmu.edu. Tartan Ink's services include:

- Binding and finishing
- Copying and printing
- Scanning materials
- UPS shipping and drop-off location

Send files via WebCopy at webcopy.campusservices.cmu.edu or visit the store.

Counseling and Psychological Services
Counseling and Psychological Services (CaPS) offers a variety of services to address the mental health needs of the CMU community. We provide a safe, confidential environment to talk about personal or academic concerns. We assist students who need to connect with mental health resources in the community and support staff, faculty and parents who have concerns about the well-being of a student. Our focus is to promote students' capacity for psychological growth and maturation through greater self-awareness and psychological insight. See cmu.edu/counseling for more information.

Resources for Students with Disabilities
Qualified individuals are entitled to reasonable accommodations under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). Carnegie Mellon takes great efforts to provide physical, digital and programmatic campus access to everyone. Individuals with documented disabilities may be eligible to receive services and accommodations from Carnegie Mellon's Office of Disability Resources. To access services/accommodations, individuals must first refer themselves to Disability Resources and provide adequate documentation of the disability. The first step in this process is to complete a Voluntary Disclosure of Disability Form and contact Catherine Getchell, the director of Disability Resources to set up an appointment. Students may identify themselves as having a disability at any time. Accommodations are determined on a case-by-case basis. All information will be considered confidential and only released to appropriate personnel on a need-to-know basis. For more information on services to students with disabilities, please contact Catherine Getchell at getchell@cmu.edu or access@andrew.cmu.edu or by phone at 412-268-6121. More information is available at cmu.edu/education-office/disability-resources.

Student Employment
On-campus employment at Carnegie Mellon is an opportunity to develop professionally and personally outside the classroom. This program serves all full-time students regardless of work-study eligibility status. Having a work-study award does not guarantee a job. All students interested in working are responsible for finding and applying for a campus job.

On-campus jobs are advertised in Handshake, Carnegie Mellon's online recruiting system. Students access Handshake at cmu.edu/career, using their Andrew ID and password. To apply for a campus job, a student must first upload a resume into the Handshake system. Each employer interviews applicants and selects the candidate to hire. Students are paid by the hour on a biweekly basis through the Carnegie Mellon Payroll System. Resources and information on forms that new student employees must complete are at cmu.edu/cmuworks/new-hires.
University Health Services

University Health Services (UHS) provides medical care for acute and chronically ill individuals. Appropriate referrals are made when specialty consultation or diagnostic studies are necessary. Please see cmu.edu/health-services for more information.

Academic Support Resources

Academic Development

Academic Development, located in Cyert Hall B5, is the place to go for help with your academic work. We offer everything from Academic Coaching in study skills, to Peer Tutoring, as well as Supplemental Instruction review sessions and EXCEL collaborative learning groups for select courses. Our services are designed to help both students who are having academic difficulties and those who just want to improve their performance.

Academic Counseling

Academic Coaching is an assistance program that helps students acquire more effective and efficient study skills. Student Academic Coaches (ACs) conduct group workshops and individual sessions that focus on skills such as:

- Time Management and Productivity
- Stress and Procrastination
- Preparing for Exams

Peer Tutoring

Walk-In Peer Tutoring is a drop-in service offered Sunday-Thursday evenings in the Donner Reading Room, the Mudge Reading Room, the Roger Sorrells Engineering & Science Library and the Residence on Fifth. Tutoring is also available on select afternoons in Cyert Hall B6-A. Complete schedules are posted on our website by the end of the second week of classes in each term. We expect to offer tutoring for the following subjects:

- Biochemistry
- Chemistry
- Organic Chemistry
- Cell Biology
- Chinese
- Genetics
- Economics
- Engineering
- Computer Science
- Calculus
- Calculus in 3D
- Concepts of Mathematics
- Multivariate
- Physics
- Writing

Weekly Tutoring Appointments are intended for students who feel they need additional support for any course not supported by EXCEL Collaborative Learning Groups. If a course is supported by either Walk-in Peer Tutoring or Supplemental Instruction (SI), we ask that students utilize those services before requesting a Weekly Tutoring Appointment.

EXCEL Collaborative Learning Groups are offered for a select number of traditionally difficult courses. EXCEL groups meet weekly throughout the term and are facilitated by trained student leaders who have already completed the course and earned an A. The groups have approximately nine students and are formed on an as-needed basis. Sessions are interactive, collaborative and geared specifically to the group members. Students can register online in order to be assigned to a group.

Supplemental Instruction (SI) is offered for traditionally difficult courses. SI discussion and review sessions are facilitated by student SI leaders who have already completed the course and earned an A. Designed to supplement, not replace, class lectures and recitations, SI sessions are interactive and collaborative. Students who attend sessions learn to integrate how-to-learn with what-to-learn. SI sessions are held twice weekly for one hour. Attendance at SI is completely voluntary.

Fast Facts are a series of 19 study skills pamphlets available on the Academic Development website and at our office. They deal with a variety of topics including: Combating Procrastination, Fighting Test Anxiety and How to Succeed in Calculus. Our newest Fast Fact, How to Succeed in Physics, will be available this fall.

Freshman Fast Facts provide advice from Carnegie Mellon students and faculty about many of the challenges that first-year undergraduates face during the first few weeks of college. Please view the Academic Development website for a list of schedules/information pertaining to our services at cmu.edu/acadev.

Career and Professional Development Center (CPDC)

The Career and Professional Development Center believes each person is unique — and thus each person’s career journey will be unique. To assist students in their individual career journeys, the CPDC created myCareerPath. Through this program, the CPDC will help students with:

- mySELF: This step is designed to help you to discover who you are and what you stand for. Who you are is more than what you can do; it is about WHO you are at a fundamental level.
  - Interest Assessments
  - Informational Interviews
  - Alumni Shadowing
  - Individual Career Consultations

- mySTORY: Once you determine who you are and your unique values, it’s time to craft your story. How do you communicate your skills, abilities, interests ... your story, to the world?
myCONNECTIONS: The final step in myCareerPath is to grow your network and get your story out there. Who do you know and who knows you? You may be surprised when you begin to consider all the people who are in your life.

To start your personalized career path, call 412-268-2064 or visit the CPDC on the second floor of West Wing next to the track. Log on to the Handshake online recruiting site to set up an appointment and to get more information at cmu.edu/career.

The Center for Student Diversity and Inclusion
Located in the lower level of Cohon Center, the Center for Student Diversity and Inclusion promotes student success and engagement. The center supports and connects historically underrepresented students and those who are first in their family to attend college in a setting where students’ differences and talents are guided, appreciated and reinforced. The center offers resources to enhance the student experience in dimensions such as access, success, campus climate and intergroup dialogue.

Computing Services
Wi-Fi Network
Once you arrive on campus, connect to the wireless network. Find CMU-SECURE in your Wi-Fi list and log in using your Andrew userID and password. To locate computer labs, set up printing to public printers and learn about other computing resources available, visit cmu.edu/computing/students.

Global Communication Center (GCC)
The Global Communication Center, located in the Hunt Library, provides free communication consulting to all undergraduate and graduate students on any written, visual or oral communication project. A trained consultant can offer you feedback on a wide range of academic and professional genres:

- Class Essays (including required First-Year Writing courses)
- PowerPoint Slides
- Personal Statements
- Resumes/Cover Letters

Visit us at any stage in the composing process:
- brainstorming
- revising
- writing
- editing

GCC tutors are recruited for their superior communication skills and receive extensive training to provide students with expert communication advice in the sciences and humanities. You can schedule a free 50-minute appointment directly on our website or walk in to our location on the first floor of the Hunt Library. We are open Sunday – Thursday. For more information or to schedule an appointment, visit cmu.edu/gcc. Contact the GCC by email gcc-cmu@andrew.cmu.edu or phone 412-268-9633.

Intercultural Communication Center
The Intercultural Communication Center is located at Warner Hall, Room 308. For more information call 412-268-4979, email eslhelp@andrew.cmu.edu or visit cmu.edu/icc.

Bridging Language and Culture Gaps
The Intercultural Communication Center is a support service designed to help nonnative English speakers (newly arrived international students as well as students who attended high school in the U.S.) develop the English language skills and cultural understanding needed to succeed at Carnegie Mellon. The center offers:

- Individual appointments (if requested) to advise students on issues related to language or classroom culture
- Non-credit seminars and workshops to develop academic language skills
- The ITA test to certify the language skills of any nonnative speaker of English (graduate or undergraduate) who plans to work as a teaching assistant

Study Abroad
Over 500 Carnegie Mellon students from all majors study abroad annually. With careful planning, students may study abroad for a semester, academic year or during the summer in various countries around the world. A well-planned study abroad program will allow a student to receive credit for study abroad coursework and graduate on time. Many students are able to use their Carnegie Mellon funding for these study abroad experiences. Additionally, there are opportunities for short-term, noncredit study abroad as well. More information can be found at cmu.edu/studyabroad.
Undergraduate Research Office

The Undergraduate Research Office (URO) supports student research in every field of study. We award Small Undergraduate Research Grants (SURG) to cover research expenses; Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowships (SURF) for full-time summer research; International SURG (ISURG) for those who are studying abroad to conduct research; and Presentation Awards to support students presenting at academic conferences. In May of each year, we hold our campus-wide celebration of undergraduate research, Meeting of the Minds.

The URO supports students conducting research and creative projects in every field at the university. All students are eligible to participate — first-years through seniors, in any discipline. Students may participate many times in their undergraduate careers. All applicants for grants and fellowships submit proposals. Our website, cmu.edu/uro provides proposal writing guidelines. In addition, we hold proposal writing workshops and the director and assistant directors meet with students to advise them on their projects and proposals.

Small Undergraduate Research Grants (SURG)
The Small Undergraduate Research Grants (SURG) program — with deadlines in fall and in spring — awards grants of up to $500 for individuals and up to $1,000 for groups of two or more to cover costs of materials and supplies, lab equipment rental, subject fees for an experiment or even travel to another city to collect data. Awards are made twice a year by a panel of faculty and administrators from each of the colleges.

Small Undergraduate Research Grants/Crosswalk (SURG/CW)
The Small Undergraduate Research Grant/Crosswalk known as SURG/CW offers grants for materials and supplies to undergraduates at Carnegie Mellon for research in all fields of study that cross disciplines. SURG/CW provides supplementary funds above what is allowed for SURG (one-person projects qualify for grants up to $500 additional; group projects can receive up to $1,000 additional).

Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowships (SURF)
Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowships are designed to allow students 8-10 weeks over the summer of supported full-time research at Carnegie Mellon in close collaboration with a faculty member. Students receive a fellowship of $3,500 as a stipend to cover expenses. Students are limited to one SURF experience over the course of their undergraduate careers.

Summer Undergraduate Research Apprenticeship (SURA)
The Summer Undergraduate Research Apprenticeship (SURA) course awards up to 9 credits of tuition-free elective credit to undergraduates at Carnegie Mellon for up to 135 hours of student participation in existing research projects under the direction of a Carnegie Mellon faculty member. SURA is designed to be an entry point to undergraduate research and creative inquiry and is open to students who have little or no prior research experience at Carnegie Mellon.

International SURG (ISURG)
ISURG is a collaborative program with the Office of International Education (OIE). ISURG allows students who plan to study abroad to apply for research funds to conduct research while they are away. The deadlines and requirements for ISURG are the same as the regular SURG competition.

International SURF (ISURF)
The International Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowship program awards $3,500 to undergraduates at Carnegie Mellon for 8-10 weeks of full-time summer research in any field of study with a faculty member overseas who is currently collaborating or has previously collaborated with a Carnegie Mellon faculty member. The URO works with OIE and supports the student through the process. Students are limited to one ISURF experience over the course of their undergraduate careers.

Undergraduate Research Symposium: “Meeting of the Minds”
The undergraduate research symposium, known as “Meeting of the Minds,” is an annual event that brings our campus together to celebrate the diverse, creative and groundbreaking research that takes place among undergraduates. Over 600 students share the findings of their research projects through poster, oral and artistic presentations. Many participate in award competitions sponsored by various corporations, individuals and organizations. Meeting of the Minds happens every year on reading day in early May at the Cohon Center.

Presentation Awards
Students whose work has been accepted for presentation at an academic conference are eligible to apply for a Presentation Award. These awards are made to help defray costs of conference registration, transportation and accommodations.

Jennings Family Brave Companions Fund
The Jennings Family Brave Companions Fund generously established by alumnus and trustee, Larry E. Jennings, Jr. and his wife Katherine Jennings, allows currently enrolled sophomores and juniors with demonstrated need and limited international experience, the opportunity to travel to developing countries during their summer breaks to study a language, conduct research or participate in service work. Students return and complete a research project related to their travel and present at Meeting of the Minds, our undergraduate research symposium.

Buncher Entrepreneurship Award
The Buncher Entrepreneurship Award is made possible by the generosity of the Jack Buncher Foundation. This award funds Carnegie Mellon undergraduate students in full for participation in a summer experience focused on entrepreneurship at Technion University in Israel. This program includes an entrepreneurship course and internship. The award will cover the cost of tuition for the course and internship, round trip travel to Haifa, Israel, housing and stipend for meals, up to $10,000.

University Library System
Discover the vast number of resources that the University Libraries has to offer by going to library.cmu.edu. You will find Carnegie Mellon library news, information about library services, training workshops, and much more. Our Research Guides will provide assistance with some disciplines, topics and courses. Visit guides.library.cmu.edu for details. Access to our online databases is available as soon as you get your Andrew account. There are several library locations available to the community. They can be located on the campus map on the back cover of this booklet. These include Hunt, located next to Baker Hall, Mellon Institute Library, located in the Mellon Institute building and Sorrells Engineering & Science Library, located on the fourth floor of Wean Hall. Tours of Hunt and Sorrells Libraries will be offered during Orientation.

Which Library, What Subject?

- Hunt Library: Arts, Humanities & Social Sciences, and Business
- The Mellon Institute: Biology and Chemistry
- Sorrells Engineering & Science Library: Computer Science, Engineering, Math and Physics

University Store
The University Store, located in the Cohon Center, is independently owned and operated by Carnegie Mellon University. Being independent gives us the unique opportunity to engage with students, faculty and staff to better understand what services they expect. The University Store is your store, and the services we provide are a direct reflection of the needs of our community. Carnegie Mellon’s robust culture is ever changing, and we change with it, providing what students need to get the most out of their education.

Campus Spirit and Life
Looking for branded items? Campus Spirit is where you’ll find clothing, home decor and professional gifts. We carry sizes from infant to adult. Campus Life encompasses all of your school supplies and the things you need to make your dorm your home. We carry everything from folders and binders to extension cords and fans. Merchandise can be ordered online and shipped at bookstore.web.cmu.edu. Contact us at 412-268-1032 or email cmu-bookstore@andrew.cmu.edu.

Art Store
Conveniently located on the lower level of the Cohon Center, the Art Store carries art supplies for everyone from fine arts students to casual hobbyists. If your department requires an art kit, it can be found at the Art Store, and also on the Art Store’s homepage. The store offers competitive prices and can custom order products and supplies. For more information, contact Amy Daly at adaly@andrew.cmu.edu or 412-268-2968.

Computer Sales and Service
Located within the University Store on the lower level, Computer Sales and Service is your one-stop shop for technology needs. Academic pricing is available on a large selection of items from Apple, Dell, Microsoft and many more. We are authorized to repair Apple, Dell and Lenovo products. Reach us by email at ps00@andrew.cmu.edu, call us at 412-268-2636, or visit us at bookstore.web.cmu.edu and choose Computer Sales.

Veteran Benefits Information and ROTC Program Opportunities
Carnegie Mellon is a Veteran Education Program supporting school. Learn about what Veterans Educational benefits may be available to you and the process of using them to support your education. Carnegie Mellon also participates in ROTC Programs for qualified students. Naval ROTC is hosted at Carnegie Mellon as well as Army and Air Force ROTC. Learn about the requirements and the benefits of these programs. For more information, contact Michael Danko, MSG, USA, Ret., ROTC Programs Manager and Veterans Benefits Coordinator at mdanko@andrew.cmu.edu.

Wellness Initiatives
The Division of Student Affairs provides an array of resources and opportunities that support and empower individual and communal well-being. While we recognize that each person defines and practices wellness differently, prioritizing healthy habits is critical to a successful, sustainable and meaningful life. BeWell@CMU is our way of supporting these practices, through venues like our Mindfulness Room, academic courses such as Mindful Living, organizations like Project Smile, Peer Health Advocates and Active Minds, and programs like Therapets and the Mind, Body and Spirit Summit. Upon your arrival, you will receive access to all of these resources and to the students, faculty and staff leaders who support them.
Student Organizations
Carnegie Mellon boasts many opportunities to get involved on campus beyond academic connections. Student-run organizations and activities are a great way to find your niche on campus. Meet representatives from many of our recognized student organizations at the Fall Activities Fair on Wednesday, September 6, from 4:30 - 6:30 p.m. on the CFA Lawn (rain location: Wiegand Gym, Cohon Center). It’s a great opportunity to learn about what makes Carnegie Mellon a vibrant, fun and unique campus. Over the years, students have established organizations that match the social, service, media, academic, gender, artistic, spiritual, recreational, sports, religious, political, cultural and governance interests of our campus community. If you are interested in starting a new organization, the staff in Student Leadership, Involvement and Civic Engagement (SLICE) and the Committee on Student Organizations (CoSo) would be more than happy to help you make your mark on campus! At Carnegie Mellon, starting a new organization is simple. To learn more about student organizations and getting involved on campus, visit cmu.edu/slice.

The Bridge
The Bridge is CMU’s online involvement tool that connects students to communities, organizations, opportunities and events. All students are able to log in to thebridge.cmu.edu, using their Andrew ID, to explore opportunities with student organizations, Greek Life and campus events. During the academic year, The Bridge functions as an events calendar for students, so check back regularly to see what’s happening on campus. Explore all that CMU has to offer at thebridge.cmu.edu.

Carnegie Mellon Alumni Association
The CMU Alumni Association is a global network of more than 100,000 alumni, staff and volunteers working hard to create opportunities to bring students and alumni together. Participate in activities throughout the year to learn CMU traditions and meet and network with alumni from varied backgrounds, career fields and cities around the world. Students have immediate access to join the online community and CMU LinkedIn group, and are encouraged to get involved with the many student organizations on campus, to attend events, and to consider becoming a member of the Highland Ambassadors. All of these provide valuable leadership opportunities.
experience while serving the campus community. Learn more about these programs and other opportunities to connect at alumni.cmu.edu/students.

Civic Engagement
Partners Allied in Civic Engagement (PACE) strives to create engaged citizens while fostering a lifelong commitment to civic engagement, including direct service, philanthropy, activism and advocacy, and issue education and dialogue. We offer opportunities ranging from awareness-raising programs, such as book clubs and documentary screenings; one-time direct service opportunities; or matching you with a longer-term volunteer opportunity at a local community partner. Next year our educational opportunities will focus on topics related to immigration and refugee support. PACE strives to help you find your passion, more deeply understand social issues and identify direct community service opportunities that fit with your schedule.

Don't know where to get started? Meet local Pittsburgh agencies and student organizations dedicated to service at the annual Volunteer Fair on Friday, September 1, 2017, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the Rangos Ballroom in the Cohon Center. You can also learn more about PACE's one-time service opportunities, such as Service Saturdays, at the Volunteer Fair. For more information visit cmu.edu/slice or email pace@andrew.cmu.edu or call the SLICE office at 412-268-8704.

Diversity and Inclusion Opportunities
Carnegie Mellon is committed to promoting a diverse and inclusive campus environment. Our students represent all 50 states, countries from all over the world and a broad array of life experiences. An integral part of the CMU experience is the strength that we exemplify through the diversity of our students' backgrounds. We offer programs and initiatives that increase awareness and engage the community in support of this commitment such as:

- Call to Action
- First@CMU
- Gandhi's Birthday/Two Weeks of Peace
- Gaypril
- Latinx Alliance
- MOSAIC Conference on Gender
- Racism is Real Lecture Series

For more information and to get involved, visit The Center for Student Diversity and Inclusion, located on the lower level of the Cohon Center or cmu.edu/diversity.

Faith, Spirituality and Religious Life
Carnegie Mellon is committed to the holistic growth of our students, including spiritual and religious practice and exploration for individuals all along the spectrum of spiritual and religious development. Carnegie Mellon encourages an explorative mindset for all students — creating programs and resources for students to pause, engage in self-inquiry and reflect upon and articulate one's moral fabric.

CMU Interfaith and Spirituality Initiatives offer programs that cross traditional religious borders to increase our students' knowledge of and appreciation for religious and spiritual traditions different from their own.

The Carnegie Mellon Council of Religious Advisors (CoRA) is a body of local religious leaders organized around supporting and encouraging religious and spiritual life within the campus community. Members of the council provide a variety of services including counseling, educational programming, conferences, worship, discussion groups, social events and religious instruction for the campus community. The university acknowledges these staff members to work within the campus community at Carnegie Mellon. Each chaplaincy has its own mission, which are available through each individual faith group. Additionally, many recognized student organizations focus on faith, spirituality and religion. See thebridge.cmu.edu for a full list.

Within the Cohon Center, there is a multi-faith chapel, as well as a prayer room complete with washing stations. Meal options that can accommodate most faith-related dietary needs can be found at cmu.edu/dining/special-needs. For more information, visit cmu.edu/student-affairs/spirituality or contact Mandy Best at mandyb@andrew.cmu.edu.
Fraternity and Sorority Life
“Going Greek” means joining a community of over 1,000 members, representing about 20 percent of the undergraduate student population. Greek Life provides a support system to allow students to grow outside of the classroom and enhance their CMU experience. CMU's Greek community focuses on the following areas:

Scholarship
Each fraternity and sorority chapter provides a unique academic support structure for its members that includes individualized academic plans for members needing academic assistance, peer tutoring, guidance from older members in your major, academic incentives and recognition for strong academic performance. Each chapter sets a minimum QPA to join and remain an active member of the organization.

Lifelong Friendships
Greek organizations bring together a diverse group of men and women with similar values in the interest of creating meaningful and long-lasting friendships that will extend long beyond the undergraduate experience. Brothers and sisters also provide mentorship, look after one another's wellness and seek to empower each other's personal development. Alumni members help to provide networking and job opportunities in many professional fields of study.

Service
Whether the impact is felt directly at CMU, in the Pittsburgh region or at a global level, CMU’s Greek organizations are committed to understanding the issues facing our society and how to be positive change agents. This is done through thousands of hours spent performing hands-on service and fundraising for a variety of worthwhile causes. Last year CMU’s Greek organizations spent over 16,500 hours performing service in the community and raised over $325,000.

Leadership
As a self-governed community, fraternities and sororities offer a wide variety of opportunities for members to develop and apply their leadership skills, create their own experience, have a positive impact and leave a legacy. Time spent in Greek organizations allows students to develop essential soft skills to prepare them for success beyond CMU.

Recruitment for Greek organizations typically happens within the first few weeks of each semester. Depending on the organization, this can be either a formal or informal process. Interested students should research each organization to see what may be a best fit for them. Students are also encouraged to attend Orientation and recruitment events hosted by Greek organizations to learn more about each individual organization and its benefits.

A professional staff within the Office of Student Leadership, Involvement and Civic Engagement (SLICE) oversees the CMU Greek community. These staff members serve to provide support and advice to Greek organizations, offer educational and developmental programs in a variety of areas, coordinate community-wide programs, and ensure that Greek organizations are held accountable to the values and policies of CMU and their respective national organizations. Learn more about the CMU Greek community at cmu.edu/slice.

Late Night
Late Night events are hosted by student organizations, university departments and the Late Night Advisor. Events take place in or around the Cohon Center typically between 10 p.m. and 1 a.m. on various Friday and Saturday nights, offering fun, free activities for Carnegie Mellon students. Visit cmu.edu/slice or contact late-night@andrew.cmu.edu for more information.

Leadership Development Opportunities
Throughout the year, the Office of Student Leadership, Involvement and Civic Engagement (SLICE) provides many ways in which students can exercise and develop their leadership skills. You can learn more about opportunities such as the Emerging Leaders retreat for freshmen, the Spring Leadership Workshop in the spring and the variety of leadership-focused seminars and presentations at cmu.edu/slice.
Intercollegiate Athletics
One of the most competitive NCAA Division III athletics programs in the country, the Carnegie Mellon intercollegiate athletics program is a member of the prestigious University Athletic Association. The Tartans have excelled on the national stage across a wide range of varsity sports. The football team has earned back-to-back bowl bids over the past two seasons, and the men's and women's soccer programs advanced to the NCAA tournament in 2015 and 2016. The women's basketball program has won 42 games over the past two seasons, and the athletics department recently announced the addition of softball as an intercollegiate sport beginning in the 2018–19 academic year. Carnegie Mellon student-athletes have received 128 Academic All-America honors since 1976 — 81 have earned the honor since the 2004–05 season. In the spring of 2017, 78 student athletes maintained a perfect 4.0 GPA. Intercollegiate programs include cross country, track and field, soccer, basketball, tennis, swimming and diving, football, golf, women's volleyball and softball. Our programs operate with the belief that athletics are an integral part of the student experience. Visit cmu.edu/athletics for more information.

Recreational Fitness
Recreational Fitness offers a variety of activities including physical education classes, group exercise classes, fitness workshops, weight rooms and courts for racquetball, squash, tennis, basketball, badminton and volleyball. The goal is to offer members of Carnegie Mellon awareness of the benefits and fun of recreational fitness. Take a lap during Walking Wednesdays held at noon on the track. Special events and programs are held throughout the year to interest as many participants as possible to take the ‘Fitness Challenge.’ Visit us at athletics.cmu.edu/recreation. To reserve a court for racquetball, squash or tennis or a bike for indoor cycling, visit enrollment.cmu.edu/reservesport.
Group X-ercise

Group X-ercise classes are made available to undergraduate and graduate students for no fee, including Zumba, Yoga, High Intensity Interval Training (HIIT), Kettlebell Cardio, Pilates, Indoor Cycling and Dance Classes, and are offered seven days per week in multiple studios that were recently constructed in the new state-of-the-art Cohon Center fitness facility. A dedicated cycling studio offers interactive rides through virtual courses. Students can try different classes, styles, instructors and techniques. Visit athletics.cmu.edu/fitness/groupx for more information. The current class schedule is available at athletics.cmu.edu/fitness/files/classschedule.pdf.

Facilities

Carnegie Mellon has made an investment in its athletics facilities over the past few years. Following the addition of its soccer/intramural field in 2010, the university added a state-of-the-art fitness center at the Cohon Center in May 2016. The two-level fitness center has a full weight room, nearly 70 pieces of cardio equipment, two exercise studios and a dedicated cycling studio. The pool received significant renovations and the university will welcome another fitness center when the new Tepper School of Business building opens in fall 2018.

Intramural Sports

Through participation in the Intramural Athletic Program, students are able to keep physically fit, put to use various learned skills, and develop leadership, team play and sportsmanship. It’s a great way to meet students, faculty and staff. Join the thousands of students with different skill levels who annually play in this highly successful program. The intramural program has a diverse offering of sports ranging from soccer to a rock, paper, scissors tournament. Visit athletics.cmu.edu/intramurals/activities for a full list of activities.

Club Sports

The Club Sports program offers members of the Carnegie Mellon University community the opportunity to participate in non-varsity intercollegiate athletic competition and formalized group instruction. Club Sports are recognized student organizations that establish their own leadership, structure, membership requirements, competition schedules, dues and fundraising events. The clubs provide social, competitive, instructional and safe environments based on the common interests of the participating members. The program strives to provide a dynamic learning environment while promoting sportsmanship, skill development and camaraderie through sport and play. We aim to be a model for student leadership — in the way students conduct themselves during events and through the administration of the program. The following team sports are currently recognized on campus as club sports: baseball, cricket, fencing, ice hockey, lacrosse, quidditch, roller hockey, rowing, rugby, skiing and snowboarding, soccer, tennis, ultimate frisbee, volleyball and water polo. Most sports have separate men’s and women’s teams. Visit athletics.cmu.edu/recreation/clubsports for contact information for each club sport.
Get to Know Pittsburgh

Arts Pass Program
Carnegie Mellon students are provided free access to several cultural venues throughout the year through the Arts Pass program, including the Carnegie Museum of Art, the Carnegie Museum of Natural History, the Carnegie Science Center and Sportsworks, the Andy Warhol Museum, the Mattress Factory, the Heinz History Center, the National Aviary and Phipps Conservatory and Botanical Gardens. This program is sponsored by the Student Dormitory Council, Undergraduate Student Senate, Graduate Student Assembly, College of Fine Arts Dean’s Office, the Office of the Vice Provost for Education and the Office of the Dean of Student Affairs. More information is available at cmu.edu/slice, or by contacting the office of Student Leadership, Involvement and Civic Engagement (SLICE) at 412-268-8704 or email slice@andrew.cmu.edu.

Pittsburgh Connections: Weekly Excursion Series
Through a generous grant from the R.K. Mellon Foundation in partnership with Venture Outdoors and the support of the Dozzi Family, Carnegie Mellon students are offered the opportunity to engage in a variety of recreational activities and service opportunities located throughout the city of Pittsburgh. Events take place on Saturdays or Sundays throughout the fall and spring semesters and accommodate up to 40 students per trip. Participants may engage in these exciting activities at a significantly reduced cost by reserving tickets on CarnegieMellonTickets.com.

The goals of this program are to help students develop and maintain a physically active lifestyle, build leadership skills and to increase the appreciation for the Western Pennsylvania region. Past activities have included: kayaking, hiking, horseback riding, rock climbing, caving and white water rafting. Service opportunities include exploring local neighborhoods and engaging in volunteer work with community partners. More information is available at cmu.edu/slice or by contacting pgh-connections@andrew.cmu.edu.

Driving To Campus

DRIVING DIRECTIONS

Due to construction and detours, please use Google Maps or visit downtownpittsburgh.com/visit/construction-updates

From the East:
Take the PA Turnpike West to Pittsburgh/Monroeville Exit. Follow Interstate 376 West to Edgewood/Swissvale Exit. Turn right onto Braddock Avenue (at the end of the ramp). Continue to the Forbes Avenue intersection (Frick Park will be on the left). Turn left onto Forbes Avenue and proceed approximately three miles to campus.

From the West/North:
Take the PA Turnpike to Cranberry Exit. Follow the direct highway connection between the turnpike and Interstate 79 South. Get onto Interstate 79 going south. After several miles bear left directly onto 279 South where Interstate 79 South splits. Stay on 279 South toward Pittsburgh. As you near the city, follow signs for 376 East/Monroeville. Take 376 East to the Forbes Avenue/Oakland exit. Stay in the right hand lanes, following Forbes Avenue approximately 1.3 miles through the Oakland business district to campus.

From the South:
Take Interstate 79 North to 279 North (following Pittsburgh). Follow 279 North toward Pittsburgh going through the Fort Pitt Tunnel and then onto the Fort Pitt Bridge. Once on the bridge, stay in the far right lanes and follow signs for 376 East/Monroeville. Take 376 East to the Forbes Avenue/Oakland exit. Stay in the right hand lanes, following Forbes Avenue approximately 1.3 miles through the Oakland business district to campus.

From Pittsburgh International Airport
Follow 279/376 North toward downtown Pittsburgh through the Fort Pitt Tunnel and onto the Fort Pitt Bridge. Once on the bridge, stay in the far right lanes and follow signs for 376 East/Monroeville. Take 376 East to the Forbes Avenue/Oakland exit. Stay in the right hand lanes, following Forbes Avenue approximately 1.3 miles through the Oakland business district to campus.

Transportation to and from the Pittsburgh Airport

Port Authority Transit (PAT) 28X Airport Flyer Bus
