Partners Allied in Civic Engagement (PACE) Goals

Partners Allied in Civic Engagement (PACE) defines civic engagement as a range of individual and/or collective efforts including but not limited to philanthropy, direct service, civic discourse, activism, and social justice towards identifying, deliberating on, and addressing issues of public concern.

PACE strives to create engaged citizens while fostering a lifelong commitment to civic engagement.

Civic Engagement in the Student Experience

Establishing civic engagement as a critical component of the Carnegie Mellon student experience.

Facilitating student’s identification of a meaningful personal and/or professional connection to civic engagement.

Educating students on the value and importance of, as well as the distinction within, the scope of civic engagement activities.

PACE Programming

Modeling and providing high quality community service experiences that include issue education, direct service, and reflection.

Providing a balanced slate of programming that both deeply explores social issues while offering a breadth of opportunities within the local community.

Exposing students to and encouraging participation in campus and community-related civic engagement opportunities.

Campus & Community Partnership

Facilitating collaboration and communication within the campus community regarding civic engagement opportunities.

Creating an intentionally inclusive civic engagement program that encourages faculty, staff, and alumni participation.

Establishing and maintaining key reciprocal relationships with community partners while maintaining a comprehensive database of community contacts.
