The Office of Title IX ("TIX") Initiatives is dedicated to promoting gender equity at Carnegie Mellon University, which includes coordinating the University’s efforts to prevent and effectively respond to all forms of sexual misconduct impacting community members. "Sexual misconduct" includes sexual assault, sexual harassment, dating and domestic violence, and stalking. Carnegie Mellon University prohibits all forms of sexual misconduct, as well as "retaliation" – or taking negative actions against a person – for reporting sexual misconduct. The Office of Title IX Initiatives ("TIX") supports all community members, including undergraduate and graduate students, staff, and faculty. We provide information and support; explain options for investigation and resolution; negotiate and implement interim measures including no contact agreements, academic, residential, and employment accommodations, as well as safety measures. We also provide education, training, and other prevention programs.

CONSENT
A voluntary agreement to engage in sexual activity.
- Someone who is incapacitated cannot consent;
- Past consent does not mean future consent;
- Silence or an absence of resistance does not imply consent;
- Consent can be withdrawn at any time; and
- Coercion, force or threats invalidates consent.

SEXUAL ASSAULT
Engaging in any physical sexual act (including rape):
1. Perpetrated against a person’s will;
2. Where that person does not give clear, voluntary consent; or
3. Where that person is incapable of giving consent due to incapacitation.

SEXUAL HARRASSMENT
Unwelcome sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, or visual, verbal, or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:
1. Submission to such conduct is made a term/condition of an individual’s employment/student status;
2. Submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for employment/educational decisions affecting such individual, or
3. Such conduct interferes with an individual’s work or educational performance, or creates an intimidating, hostile or offensive environment, or interferes with an individual’s ability to participate in/benefit from an educational program or activity.

DATING VIOLENCE
Violence committed by a person who is or was in a romantic or intimate relationship with the victim.

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE
Any of the following acts against a family or household member (including minor children), sexual or intimate partner, or person who shares biological parenthood:
- Attempting to cause or causing bodily injury, sexual assault, or incest;
- Placing another person in reasonable fear of imminent serious bodily injury;
- False imprisonment; and/or
- Stalking.

INCAPACITATION
The physical and/or mental inability to make informed, rational judgments such as:
1. Due to the use of drugs or alcohol;
2. When a person is sleeping or unconscious; or
3. Due to an intellectual or other disability.

STALKING
Engaging in a course of conduct, or repeatedly communicating to another person, or repeatedly committing acts toward another person, with an intent to place such person in reasonable fear of bodily injury or to cause substantial emotional distress to such other person.

CONSENT
A voluntary agreement to engage in sexual activity.
- Someone who is incapacitated cannot consent;
- Past consent does not mean future consent;
- Silence or an absence of resistance does not imply consent;
- Consent can be withdrawn at any time; and
- Coercion, force or threats invalidates consent.

INCAPACITATION
The physical and/or mental inability to make informed, rational judgments such as:
1. Due to the use of drugs or alcohol;
2. When a person is sleeping or unconscious; or
3. Due to an intellectual or other disability.
1. Get to a safe place. Contact a friend, family member, University Police, your RA or Housefellow, or someone else you trust.

2. In an emergency or if you are in immediate danger, call University Police at 412-268-2323.

3. Consider seeking medical attention after an assault. University Police can escort you to a local hospital (call 412-268-2323).

4. Try to preserve physical evidence of assault. Avoid showering, douching, or changing clothes or bedding before you seek medical attention. Take photographs of injuries or ask someone else to do so.

5. Try to save and/or keep a record of unwanted contacts, including texts, emails, social media messaging, phone calls, voice messages, gifts, notes, letters and in-person contacts.

6. Consider contacting any of the resources on the opposite page for support, resources, information and referrals.

7. Consider contacting the Office of Title IX Initiatives (“TIX”) to learn about support and safety measures, and options for investigation and possible resolution.

8. Trust your instincts. If something doesn’t feel right – tell someone.
