

A NOTE FROM DIRECTOR SEAN MCGOWAN

Dear Carnegie Mellon Employer Community,

As the fall semester ends at Carnegie Mellon University, I want to thank you for your partnership and engagement with our talented students. Whether you participated in one of our career fairs, hosted an on-campus or virtual event, or connected with a student for a one-on-one conversation, your efforts make a lasting impact on our community and the future workforce.

This semester has been both busy and rewarding. A highlight was our Annual STEM Career Fair, which welcomed over 150 employers and more than 4,400 enthusiastic student internship and job seekers.

Looking ahead, our team is excited to support your hiring goals in the new year. Registration is now open for our Spring STEAM Career Fair, which will provide you with a unique opportunity to connect with CMU students across science, technology, engineering, arts, and mathematics disciplines.

We're also thrilled to host a Freshman and Sophomore Employer Networking Event, jumpstart, the evening before the STEAM

Career Fair, offering a great chance to connect with early-career talent.

In the coming weeks, please don't hesitate to reach out to our office as we value your feedback and are eager to hear how we can better support your recruiting goals.

Thank you for being a valued partner in our mission to develop the next generation of innovative thinkers and leaders. Wishing you a wonderful holiday season and a successful start to the new year!

Cheers,

Sean McGowan
