Note:

You can register yourself for classes on Student Information Online <https://acis.as.cmu.edu/sio/>. See <https://www.cmu.edu/hub/registrar/docs/4-easy-steps.pdf> Sharon Johnston will register you for the classes listed above that are not highlighted or footnoted, if you have not registered yourself for them when she registers graduate students.

To select an elective (any music or non-music graduate) course or courses, see information about them on the CMU Schedule of Classes: <https://enr-apps.as.cmu.edu/open/SOC/SOCServlet>. You will register yourself for your preferred course or courses.

You must register for the required number of units (36) by the 10th day of the semester in order to be considered full-time. Dropping to part-time status will reduce your financial aid proportionally and may reduce your loan eligibility. You may take more units than is required without an additional charge; however, our graduate programs are designed to allow a significant amount of time for private practice and preparation for the profession. So, overloading (more than 48 units) is discouraged.

2. How do I register for Major Studio?

If you are an Advanced Music Studies student, register for the course number for your area of study [for example, 57986, Advanced Music Studies Studio (Individual): Violin]. If you are an Artist Diploma student, contact Sharon Johnston.

3. How do I register for a major ensemble?

All graduate instrumental Advanced Music Studies music majors who are required to participate in School of Music ensembles will be assigned to Major Instrumental Ensemble [Orchestra/Wind Ensemble/Contemporary Ensemble]. All positions will be assigned by faculty. Some instrumental areas will have ensemble auditions. If your area will have an audition, you will be informed. Principal strings and Concertmaster auditions will take place after the opening concert.

If you are not an instrumental major, you may choose to audition for Chorus for elective credit. If you wish to be considered for assignment to Major Instrumental Ensemble, please inform Sharon Johnston.

4. How can I register for Chamber Music or Sonatas?

If you are in the chamber music performance concentration, you will be placed in and registered for a Chamber Music group. You don't need to do anything to be registered for Chamber Music; the School of Music will register you for Chamber Music.

If you are not in the chamber music performance concentration, you may choose to register for Chamber Music for elective credit. If you wish to be considered for assignment to a Chamber Music group, please inform Sharon Johnston.

If you are not an instrumental major, you may choose to audition for Chamber Music for elective credit. If you wish to do so, please inform Sharon Johnston.

Note that AMS students in the chamber music performance concentration must be registered for Chamber Music every semester. Sharon Johnston will assume that you will be registered for Chamber Music unless she hears from you otherwise.

5. How can I know if a special circumstance applies to me?

See below, or contact Sharon Johnston if you have questions about your class schedule.

If you are interested in taking more than 48 units, your class schedule will need to be approved. You will need to discuss your schedule and the procedures for requesting an overload with Sharon Johnston. Please contact her during July.
