OPEN BOARDS
There are several locations available for the placement of posters. Refer to the maps in this guide for these locations.

Posters laid anywhere in the Cohon University Center, including on tables and banisters, will be treated as litter and thrown away. Table tents are permitted, as long as the article can stand on its own.
- Active posters may not be posted in duplicate on a single board.
- Posters may not be posted over active posters.
- Posters may not exceed 11" x 17".
- The main information on the poster must be in English.

COHON UNIVERSITY CENTER CONTROLLED BOARDS
Controlled boards are maintained by the Cohon University Center staff and are available for students or organizations to place posters on, with permission.

Posting on controlled boards
The Cohon University Center maintains bulletin boards to advertise campus events. In order to have a flyer posted to these boards, organizations are required to provide at least three posters to the Information Desk. Two of the posters will be posted on the controlled boards located on the east wall of Kirr Commons and to the left of the Career and Professional Development Center in the lower level. The remaining poster is kept on record and is used to update events information.
- Posters must advertise an event hosted and/or sponsored by a recognized student organization or administrative department.
- Posters may not exceed 11" x 17".
- The event title, date, and time must be listed in English.
- The event must occur on one day only; it cannot repeat or include multiple dates.
- The event must take place on campus or at a recognized off-campus location such as Soldiers and Sailors Hall.
- The event must be open to the entire campus community.
- The poster may not advertise the consumption of alcohol.
- The images and text must be of a tasteful quality.

APPROVAL

The building supervisor is responsible for approving your poster. If the poster fails the requirement for posting or is deemed inappropriate for posting on the controlled boards, the poster will not be posted and may be returned or discarded. All approved posters will be stamped with the date of its approval.

POSTING

If the poster is approved, a building supervisor will post it as his or her work schedule permits.

Removal of Posters

Any Cohon University Center building supervisor or staff member has the right to remove posters from any bulletin board in the building.

Violation of Policy

Any violation of this policy may result in fines levied against an individual or organization. This policy may be amended or revised as deemed necessary by Cohon Center staff.
