Administrative Experience

Team Lead, 2022 AAC&U Institute on Engaged and Integrative Learning, Carnegie Mellon University

Serving as the team lead of 8 faculty and staff members attending the upcoming summer institute with the aim of bringing various efforts across colleges and units together to build a more cohesive culture of engaged and integrative learning.

Coordinator, 99-519/99-520: Collaborative Research Through Projects Courses, Carnegie Mellon University

Courses began in Summer 2020 as tuition-free opportunities to undergraduates. Developed the learning outcomes for the two trajectories of courses under this course number with aim to mirror research or project-based learning experiences. Responsibilities include developing the call for course proposals, aiding in selection of courses, advertising of the courses in conjunction with other summer opportunities through the Office of the Vice Provost for Education, and placement of students into courses. Engaging with the Eberly Center for Teaching Excellence and Educational Innovation on assessment with an aim to align with assessment done on undergraduate research by colleagues in the Office of Undergraduate Research and Scholar Development.

Coordinator and Instructor of Record, Weekend Micro-Courses, Carnegie Mellon University

Duties include: collaborating with the Associate Director of the Global Studies Center at the University of Pittsburgh to select course topics aligning with strategic priorities of our institutions; research, select, and invite speakers from varying disciplines to provide a multi-disciplinary approach to the course topic; develop activities and assignments for the courses, including pedagogical advancement aligned with developing cultural and global learning of the students. Course topics have included: Global Health (aligned with multiple Sustainable Development Goals); Transforming Cities (global cities; smart cities and technology; cities and sustainability; cities and social justice); Technology, Humanity, and Social Justice (governance; environment; education; health).

Assessment of Cultural and Global Learning, Carnegie Mellon University

Efforts include incorporating assessment and research on cultural and global learning within the weekend micro courses, particularly as it relates to role-playing activities. Efforts also include development of learning modules with an immersive experience (Kaleidoscope) in the Askwith Kenner Global Languages and Cultures room to research development of cultural competency; this is in collaboration with Sebastien Dubreil and Stephan Caspar (both of Modern Languages). Participation in efforts to develop cultural and global learning assessment as a core competency across the university.

Project Manager for Construction of the Askwith Kenner Global Languages and Cultures Room, Carnegie Mellon University

Duties included serving as liaison between the Facilities Management Services team at the university and a committee of faculty, staff, and donor during the build out of immersive technology space in a newly constructed building on campus.

Coordinator, University Lecture Series, Carnegie Mellon University

Duties include organizing and sitting on committees associated with ULS, managing the contracting, planning, and delivery of various lectures, writing and reviewing various communication pieces associated with ULS.

Coordinator, 99-409: Summer Research and 99-412: Summer Internships, Carnegie Mellon University

Duties include supervision of internships and research opportunities for students during the summer; engage with research and internship supervisors regarding student performance; evaluate student reflections on experiences.

Interim Division Chair, Humanities Division, La Roche College

Duties included participating in National Association of Schools of Art & Design (NASAD) accreditation review, engagement with the Vice President for Academic Affairs, and leading meetings with faculty across the division.

Coordinator, Community, Global, and Languages, La Roche College

Duties including improved course scheduling to meet the needs of this general education requirement and aiding course development.

Advisor, Communication, Media, and Technology, La Roche College

Served as an undergraduate advisor to Communication, Media, and Technology majors, including supervision of internships and senior capstone projects.
