Panel IV— 3:00-4:10pm

Mapping and Managing the Environment

Chair:
Zhaokun Liu, Carnegie Mellon University

Matt Plishka, University of Pittsburgh
Mapping Panama Disease: The Value of Historical GIS to Environmental History

Francisco Javier Bonilla, Carnegie Mellon University
The Imperial Management of Urban Water in Panama City and the Canal Zone during the Construction of the Panama Canal, 1903-1914

Discussant:
Cordelia Brazile, University of Pittsburgh
Panel I—9:15-10:45am
Childhood and Reform

Chair:
Aura Jirau, University of Pittsburgh

Ana Fumurescu, University of Pittsburgh
An 'Undeveloped National Sentiment': Early Childhood Education in Post-Ottoman Dobruja, 1878-1914

Krysta Beam, University of Pittsburgh

Chelsey Smith, University of Pittsburgh
Cultivating Free Children's Minds: Child Labor and Education in Apprenticeship-Era Jamaica, 1834-1838

Discussant:
Jacob Pomerantz, University of Pittsburgh

10:45-11:00 am: Coffee Break

Panel II—11:00-12:30am
Anti-Imperialism and Social Protest

Chair:
Samuel Shepherd, University of Pittsburgh

Aura Jirau, University of Pittsburgh
Antónia Martinez Lagares: Martyr of the UPR-Río Piedras' Student Movement

Daniel Holland, University of Pittsburgh
Lyons in the 1990s: A Decade of Frustration and Hope

Elvis Rivera Salinas, University of Pittsburgh
'Unclean Hands:' Manuel Gomez, the AAAIL, and Solidarity with Augusto C. Sandino

Discussant:
Warner Sabio, University of Pittsburgh

12:30am-1:15pm: Lunch

Panel III—1:15-2:45 pm
Diplomatic Exchanges

Chair:
Ana Fumurescu, University of Pittsburgh

John Tipton, University of Pittsburgh
'Neither Your Subjects nor Ours': The Language of Sovereignty and Subjecthood in the Wake of the Treaty of Utrecht

Zhaokun Liu, Carnegie Mellon University
Postmortem Crossing of the 38th Parallel: The Truncated Exchange of Combatants' Remains after the Korean War, 1953-1954

Samuel Shepherd, University of Pittsburgh
Literacy and Legitimacy: Sandinista Nicaragua's 1980 International Campaign

Discussant:
Artan Hoxha, University of Pittsburgh

2:45-3:00pm: Coffee Break