Community-Involved Mural Project

What is this?
A senior Honors Thesis project run by Elise Delgado from the Department of Psychology. I am looking for students, staff, and faculty who are underrepresented and marginalized on CMU’s campus to contribute and participate in a community-involved portable mural.

Why contribute?
It is important to me, as a woman of color, to embody the diverse perspectives at CMU, especially of those whose voices are not heard. I also want this to be a true community effort where diverse people can come together. Therefore, your voices, stories, and talents matter to be able to jointly create an artistic representation of experiences, feelings, and community at CMU.

How can you contribute?

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>One-on-one Interviews</th>
<th>Survey Feedback</th>
<th>Art-making</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>• 15 Min</td>
<td>• Choosing the design</td>
<td>• In-person/Remote options</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Interested in participating?
Fill out this form:
https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/PJ8BWHK
or to directly schedule an interview:
https://calendly.com/elise-delgado/15min

This Mural Project is in collaboration with... Carnegie Mellon University Center for Student Diversity and Inclusion