Pitt/CMU Graduate Philosophy Conference Schedule

March 16-17, 2019
Carnegie Mellon University, Baker Hall A53
4909 Frew St., Pittsburgh, PA 15213

Sat, March 16th

9:00-9:30 AM  Breakfast and Coffee

9:30-10:30 AM  Derek Haderlie, UT Austin: “Why Wishful Thinking is a Distinct Challenge for Noncognitivists”

Commentator: Daniel Kaplan, University of Pittsburgh

Commentator: Aaron Segal, University of Pittsburgh

11:30-12:30 PM  Demirtas Huzeyfe, Syracuse University: “Against Proportionality Luck”

Commentator: Aaron Salomon, University of Pittsburgh

12:30-1:30 PM  Lunch

1:30-2:30 PM  Matthew Maxwell, University of Rochester: “Bridging Accuracy and Epistemic Merit”

Commentator: Pablo Zendejas Medina, University of Pittsburgh

Commentator: William Conner, University of Pittsburgh

3:30-4:00 PM  Bagels and Coffee

4:00-5:15 PM  External Keynote: Julia Staffel, University of Colorado, Boulder

“Pro Tem Rationality”

5:15-6:30 PM  --Break--

6:30 PM  Dinner
Sun, March 17th

9:00-9:30 AM  Breakfast and Coffee

  Commentator: Stephen Mackereth, University of Pittsburgh

10:30-11:30 AM  Weng Kin San, University of Southern California: “KK, Knowledge, Knowability”

  Commentator: William Nalls, Carnegie Mellon University

11:30-12:45 PM  Faculty Keynote: Adam Bjorndahl, Carnegie Mellon University

  “The Epistemology of Nondeterminism”

12:45-1:45 PM  Lunch

1:45-2:45 PM  Alexander Meehan, Princeton University: “Knowing the Chances”

  Commentator: Mason Broxham, Carnegie Mellon University

2:45-3:45 PM  Zili Dong, Simon Fraser University: “Discovering unfaithful causal structures from observations and interventions”

  Commentator: Biwei Huang, Carnegie Mellon University

3:45-4:15 PM  Bagels and Coffee

4:15-5:30 PM  Faculty Keynote: Dmitri Gallow, University of Pittsburgh

  “Updating for Externalists”

5:30 PM  --End of Conference--

Structure of Non-Keynote Talks:

- 30-minutes: Speaker’s presentation
- 10-minutes: Commentator’s comments
- 10-minutes: Q&A
- 10-minutes: Break