Location: McConomy Auditorium, Cohon University Center

The EPP department offers additional major B.S. degree programs with each of the five traditional engineering departments in the engineering college. The elements of the EPP undergraduate program broaden the traditional scope of technical analysis to encompass an engineering solution's potential impact on society. Thus, our graduates have the same skills as their peers in traditional engineering majors, but with a broader societal perspective and additional analysis skills. This enables our graduates to understand the interface between technology and society and to help solve the complex, interdisciplinary systems problems facing our world, in their careers. Students will be able to work in a variety of career fields, including technical and non-technical, in industry, government, or elsewhere where these broad skills are needed.

2 Steps to Save a Life

Location: Connan Room, Cohon University Center

Join the Carnegie Mellon University Emergency Medical Service to learn hands-only CPR, a nationwide campaign by the American Heart Association which seeks to increase bystanders' abilities and willingness to respond to a cardiac emergency. When someone experiences a cardiac arrest, immediate intervention is absolutely necessary. However, most cardiac arrests occur outside of hospitals and so professional help is likely not immediately accessible. These few minutes can make a huge difference; immediate hands-only CPR by a bystander can double or even triple a victim's chance of survival. Hands-only CPR is easy and quick to learn, and can empower anyone to become a lifesaver.

Come listen to how they made the most of Carnegie Mellon as they share their secrets to success. Don't miss this final Orientation event!

Reception follows in Connan following the lecture. Meet the 2019 Panelists: Nadyli Nuñez graduated in 2015 with a Bachelor of Science in Decision Science and a Minor in Innovation & Entrepreneurship. Her activities included serving as an RA and CA. She was active on the Ballroom Dance Team, TEDxCMU, Pre-Law Society and Dancer's Symposium.

In 2019 Nadyli started as the operations director of Ascender, a Pittsburgh hub with educational programs for entrepreneurs, mentorship and co-working space. Most recently, she served as the director of UpPrize BNY Mellon Social Innovation Challenge, a platform attracting ideas and solutions that can improve nonprofit operations and/or the lives of marginalized populations. Nadyli also spent time at Capital BlueCross transforming how the health insurance company engages, reimburses and partners with providers to improve long-term health outcomes. The Pittsburgh Business Times recognized Nadyli as Pittsburgh's "30 under 30" in 2017.

Matt Katase is the Co-Founder and CEO of The Brew Gentlemen, a microbrewery in Pittsburgh “aiming to explore the intersection of brewing, art and technology to create exceptional craft beers for a growing community of people that share our strong sense of curiosity.”

Matt graduated in 2012 with a Bachelors of Arts in Operations Research and Entrepreneurship. His activities as an undergraduate included Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Undergraduate Orientation Counselor, TEDxCMU, Tepper Venture Challenge and Men's Waterpolo.
