

MY TRIP TO: TACLOBAN, PHILIPPINES

Sofia Cordoba Valencia

TRIP OUTLINE

A hand-drawn illustration of a teal suitcase with a red strap and buckle. The suitcase is tilted and contains a list of activities. Dashed lines and an arrow are also present.

- ARRIVAL
- VOLUNTEERING
- HOMESTAY
- MARKETS
- EXCURSION

ARRIVAL

Arrived in Manila,
Philippines

Flew to City of Tacloban in the Eastern Visayas

Rode a King-Cab To my homestay, driven by my Kuya*

*Kuya means older brother in Tagalog. He is the husband in the couple with whom I stayed with

Pork Chop Suey

VOLUNTEER FOR VISAYANS: NUTRITION PROJECT

I COOKED...

Not limited to

Pancit

Fried Rice

Pancit Part II

VOLUNTEER FOR VISAYANS: NUTRITION PROJECT

MY HOMESTAY

Ate Tess became a second mom to me*

Zabrina

Ate Tess and my fellow volunteer, Alex

Me and Ate Tess' sister in law, Ate Analin

Delicious dinners

Zab ready for dinner

Eating out with Ate and Henrich

Ate'e nephew, Henrich

Ate means older sister in Tagalog*

GOING TO THE MARKET

My main method of transportation to the market was a tricycle:

AT THE MARKETS

Candyshop where Ate would buy items to replenish her shop

Market in Basey, Samar

Coastal market downtown

VOLUNTEER EXCURSION TO SOHOTON CAVE

“Sohoton” itself means ‘narrow opening’ in Visayan languages of the Philippines

CAVING

KAYAKING

Plus me drinking from a young coconut

