

Improve Your Communication Projects at the Global Communication Center

We offer communication consulting on written, visual and oral projects

We provide innovative communication instruction and support to students and faculty.

Our highly trained staff are experienced in a wide range of academic genres, from humanities to the STEM disciplines.

Whether your project is written, oral, or visual, our research-based strategies will help you communicate more effectively.

Choose from a wide variety of tutoring methods to suit your individual needs

- One-on-one Individual tutoring sessions offer feedback at every stage of the composing process, from brainstorming to final drafts.
- eTutoring With flexible eTutoring appointments, you receive a detailed feedback video recorded with screen capture technology.
- Group Tutoring Our group tutoring sessions are tailored to helping you manage group projects and communicate with your team members.
- Workshops Our campus-wide workshops offer tips for crafting research posters, PowerPoint presentations, and more.
- Bootcamps For doctoral students, our week-long bootcamps help you jump-start the process of writing your dissertation.

GCC tutors use research-based strategies that will help you improve your project at any stage

From brainstorming and content development to revising and editing, we offer free tutoring for any student, at any level, from any academic discipline.

We help graduate and undergraduate students working on a diverse range of projects:

Academic

Class Essays
Journal Articles
Research Posters
Dissertations
Lab Reports
Literature Reviews
Conference Talks

Professional

Tech Reports
Data Visualization
Application Materials
Grant Proposals
Powerpoint Slides
Oral Presentations
Team Projects

Your learning is our top priority

Our goal is to help students develop a rhetorical awareness that enables them to navigate and respond to a variety of communication problems in diverse contexts.

Visit Us

First Floor, Hunt Library
Monday-Thursday 11am-8pm
Sunday 5-8pm

Make an Appointment

412.268.9633
www.cmu.edu/GCC
gcc-cmu@andrew.cmu.edu

“With help from GCC tutors, I started paying more attention to sentence structure, paragraph linking, and other critical style issues. I truly recommend that all students take advantage of this great service.”

-Architecture PhD Candidate