Dear University of America School of Medicine Admissions Committee,

My name is Abc Xyz, and I am a current applicant to the University of America School of Medicine. I was privileged to interview at UoA SOM on September 25th, and as I continue to reflect on that experience, my enthusiasm about potentially joining the next incoming class continues to grow. I can say without hesitation that if I were to be offered an admission to UoA SOM, I would gladly accept. UoA SOM is my clear first choice to advance my medical education, and in turn, I believe I can contribute to the growth of those around me.

My interview day at UoA SOM was overwhelmingly positive, and I felt so welcomed and energized by everyone I met, particularly by Dr. Abc Def during my interview. In discussing with her why she was drawn to joining UoA SOM because of the abundant opportunities and research excellence, I saw my own priorities reflected in her story. Many things from my interview day stand out in my mind and continue to excite me, though foremost is UoA's culture of innovation and progress (identify a few relevant attributes). As a student at Carnegie Mellon University, I have been/was continuously driven by my insatiable curiosity and my drive to learn. I greatly appreciate how research is a central focus on the medical training experience, as my previous research has been a huge driving force that led me to medicine and is something I am eager to continue. (Here you can state a similar sentence about service, mentoring, etc that you find a link between you and UoA SOM).

Getting to hear from current medical students on my interview day highlighted additional strengths about the program at UoA SOM, as I'm particularly interested in continuing my...state what you want to continue – like mentoring, teaching... - that UoA will foster. Furthermore, I am particularly motivated by the prospect of learning and practicing medicine in CITY, because ...list 2-3 reasons why that city is a good place to attend med school. Looking ahead, I want to be a part of caring for and improving the well-being of others, specifically in my own community, and I hope that begins with my medical education at UoA SOM.

After carefully considering my recent experiences, UoA SOM stands out as my ideal home to grow into the pioneering and compassionate physician (and researcher, mentor, educator, community leader...) I aspire to become. If given the opportunity, I would accept a place in your school without doubt. Thank you for considering my application and affording me the opportunity to meet with you back on October 25th. I sincerely hope to meet with you again as a member of your incoming class.

All the best,
