Coordination of Benefits

Employees and their dependents covered under another medical plan may enroll in medical benefits through the Carnegie Mellon program if they wish. In such cases, the benefits payable under the Carnegie Mellon plan will be coordinated with the benefits payable under the other plan. In no case will benefits for a claim be paid under more than one plan.

Eligibility

You may enroll in benefits if you are employed by Carnegie Mellon University and an active member of the Local 95 Bargaining Unit. You may also cover your eligible dependents under your medical coverage.

Eligible dependents include:

- your spouse or your registered domestic partner
- your dependent children up to age 26
- unmarried dependent children of any age who are incapable of self-support due to total disability (certification process required)

This is a Summary.

This document contains summaries of the options provided in each benefits category. These summaries are intended to help you choose among the available options. They do not take the place of legal plan documents. If there is a conflict between this summary and the plan documents, the plan documents will govern.

General Information about Benefits

Benefits for Domestic Partners

Eligible employees may elect medical benefits for their same- or opposite-sex domestic partners. If your relationship meets the criteria found in the Domestic Partner Registration Packet, your partner is eligible to be covered under the plan.

Enrollment Process for Domestic Partners

If you have not already done so, first download and complete a Carnegie Mellon Registration Statement of Domestic Partnership. You can download the Domestic Partner Registration Packet from www.cmu.edu/hr/benefits/union/local-95.html or request one from HR Employee Services at hr-help@andrew.cmu.edu or 412-268-4600.

All Domestic Partnership Registration information will be held confidentially.

Family or Life Status Change

The elections you make during Open Enrollment will remain in effect for the full plan year beginning July 1, 2023 and continuing through June 30, 2024. If your life or family status changes during that time, however, you may be permitted to change your benefits level to accommodate your new situation. Generally, if you experience any of the following, you can make specified benefit changes consistent with your situation:

- Marriage or registration of a domestic partnership
- Divorce, termination of domestic partnership, or death of a spouse or domestic partner
- Death of a dependent or a dependent becomes ineligible
- Birth or adoption of a dependent
- Spouse/domestic partner or dependent child gains other coverage
- Spouse/domestic partner or dependent child loses other coverage
- Major change to cost or terms of coverage
- Relocation to an area without plan network coverage

If any such event occurs, you must make the changes to your benefits by contacting HR Employee Services within 30 days of the event. A representative will help you make the appropriate changes to your enrollment. You will be required to provide documentation verifying the change within 30 days of the date you notified HR Employee Services of the change.

Tax Treatment of Domestic Partner Coverage

The Internal Revenue Service prohibits pre-tax contributions to be made on behalf of dependents who do not meet the Internal Revenue Code Section 152 definition of a dependent. In most cases, same-sex and opposite-sex domestic partners do not meet this definition. If your domestic partner does qualify as a federal tax dependent for health coverage purposes in the current tax year, you will not experience these tax implications. You can verify this status by completing the form contained within the Domestic Partner Registration Packet.

The cost to add the domestic partner is paid on an after-tax basis and is considered imputed income to the employee at the fair market value of the coverage. That value is derived from the COBRA rates (the full cost of the plan minus the 2% administrative fee). The additional cost of adding your domestic partner to your coverage will be noted as additional reported taxable income on your pay stub.
