Countering disinformation September 9 – September 15

Articles and fact-checking stories debunking disinformation for the last week:

- ❑ Fact Check: COVID-19 Vaccines Are NOT '98 Times Worse Than The Virus' -- Benefits 'Far Outweigh The Risk Of Serious Health Effects' <https://leadstories.com/hoax-alert/2022/09/fact-check-covid-vaccines-are-not-98-times-worse-than-the-virus.html>;

Measures for countering health disinformation

- ❑ Anti-vaccine narratives are still pervasive on social media, while there are not that many counter-narratives about the positive effects of vaccines;
- ❑ There is a need for a reframing of social media as a medically and socially valuable resource and platform because of its high impact on society;
- ❑ Healthcare organizations need to implement social media strategies to create and expand conversations countering disinformation on social media;
- ❑ It would be helpful for health communicators to cooperate with local influencers who could spread pro-vaccination messages. Another strategy could be to motivate health practitioners to use social media as a channel for communication with the public;
- ❑ "Strategies focused on meaningfully and safely engaging HCPs on social media, promoting interconnectivity across the medical and public health communities on COVID-19 vaccine truths, and sustaining these messaging efforts across vaccine implementation stages will be our best hope of preventing any more missed doses and promoting "misinformation immunity" for all." (Hernandez et al. 2021. "The COVID-19 vaccine social media infodemic: healthcare providers' missed dose in addressing misinformation and vaccine hesitancy.")

9/26/2022

Measures for countering health disinformation

- ❑ As a trusted source of information on vaccines, family physicians play a crucial role in driving vaccine acceptance;
- ❑ Sharing stories, building trust with patients, addressing pain associated with vaccination, presenting vaccination as the default approach early on, focusing on the benefits of protection, and being honest about side effects could also help to promote pro-vaccination attitudes (Shen & Dubey 2019. "Addressing vaccine hesitancy: Clinical guidance for primary care physicians working with parents");
- ❑ It is helpful to provide more information for the patients about the possible disinformation strategies they may deal with, such as manipulating emotions to promote misinformation and conspiracy theories to sow confusion and create division. Inoculation strategy may help to prepare the community by presenting counterarguments to misinformation and raising awareness of negative emotional appeals spread by anti-vaccine campaigns;
- ❑ Framing vaccination as a concrete, actionable strategy to reduce COVID-19 risk may help to address negative emotions, increase self-efficacy and ensure the feelings of control over reducing COVID-19 risk.
