The Boeing Corporation / Information Systems
Leadership Recognition Scholarships
For the Fall 2022 semester

The Information Systems Program and its corporate affiliate The Boeing Corporation are pleased to announce the availability of three scholarship awards of $4,250 each for the Fall 2022 semester. Each award will go to applicants chosen by the IS Program, and payment of the awards will be applied to the recipients' tuition accounts.

Purpose of the Program
This award is designed specifically to acknowledge and reward academically successful students who have also demonstrated effective campus citizenship and teamwork abilities/characteristics through personal initiative and extracurricular activities. The IS Program and Boeing encourage students from underrepresented backgrounds and those facing economic barriers to apply.

For candidates with an interest in The Boeing Company, scholarship recipients are encouraged to apply for Boeing summer internships if positions are available.

Eligibility
Candidates need to be full-time Information Systems majors and can be in their second, third, or fourth year of study. They must also have at least a 3.2 cumulative grade point average.

Candidates must have authorization to work in the United States on a full-time basis for other than training purposes (student/temporary visas do not qualify).

Application Process
Applications must be submitted by 3:00 pm, Wednesday, November 30, 2022. For further details, please contact Shawna Pace isinfo@andrew.cmu.edu.
