

Institutional Research

The process of collecting, organizing, and analyzing information in order to better understand the CMU community and ultimately make evidence-based, data-driven decisions.