Undergraduate Research Office
Academic Year 2008-09

The Undergraduate Research Office provides seed funds for undergraduate research projects, funds undergraduate students presenting their findings at academic conferences, and presents an annual undergraduate research symposium. The program is available to students from each of the university's six undergraduate colleges. The Office encourages students to pursue graduate studies and research careers.

Study Abroad
Academic Year 2008-09

The Office of International Education (OIE) promotes and facilitates study abroad and acts as a liaison to the university for foreign students, researchers, and professors. OIE provides the following services:

- Advise international students and scholars regarding personal, immigration/visa, academic, social, and acculturation issues
- Advise students who wish to study abroad regarding programs and options
- Inform foreign students and scholars about changes in immigration regulations and about upcoming events
- Plan workshops on cultural adjustment, reentry issues, career planning, tax filing, and other topics
- Provides support and advice to international and cultural groups such as the International Student Union and the International Spouses and Partners Organization
- Organize orientation programs for new students and scholars and Carnegie Mellon students who study abroad
