Introduction

Carnegie Mellon’s mission includes cultivating “a transformative university community committed to attracting and retaining diverse, world-class talent.” In support of this mission, the university strives to provide a consistent and engaging candidate experience and maintains an external Careers at Carnegie Mellon site where interested individuals can browse job opportunities and submit job applications.

Workday Recruiting, Carnegie Mellon’s human capital software, allows external applicants to create a Candidate Home account when they start their first application. From the Candidate Home account, applicants can submit and manage applications and view and respond to job offers.

Note: CMU employees should not submit job applications through the external Careers at Carnegie Mellon site. If you are currently employed by CMU (including the SEI), please go to the Internal Careers at Carnegie Mellon site to submit your application.

Carnegie Mellon University does not discriminate in admission, employment, or administration of its programs or activities based on race, color, national origin, sex, handicap or disability, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, creed, ancestry, belief, veteran status, or genetic information. Furthermore, Carnegie Mellon University does not discriminate and is required not to discriminate in violation of federal, state, or local laws or executive orders.

CMU’s COVID-19 Vaccination Policy:

As a condition of employment, Carnegie Mellon University requires all staff and faculty working in the United States to be fully vaccinated, including a booster when eligible, against COVID-19. Before commencement of employment, new hires in the United States must provide proof of vaccination or obtain an approved exemption. (Exemptions include medical, religious or strong moral or ethical conviction.) Those granted an exemption must comply with all applicable COVID-19 mitigation requirements, which can be found on the CMU Coronavirus website.

This document outlines the steps an external applicant takes in the processes listed below.

Additional Tasks—CMU COVID-19 Vaccination Requirements:
As soon as you accept a job offer at CMU, you will receive an email prompting you to log in to your Candidate Home page and complete two tasks related to complying with the university's COVID-19 vaccination requirements. The tasks you will need to complete are as follows:

2. Provide your date of birth by completing the Change Personal Information task.

Note: Please complete these tasks within 24 hours of accepting a job offer. Delays may jeopardize your eligibility to start work as scheduled.

Review Documents:
The document you are being asked to review contains all the information you need to comply with CMU's COVID-19 vaccination requirements before your first day of work.

1. To complete the Review Documents task, click the Start button, read the COVID-19 vaccination requirements document, and acknowledge that you have received the information.

Note on exemptions: If you plan to request an exemption from the university's COVID-19 vaccination requirements, we recommend beginning the exemption process as soon as possible after you have accepted a job offer. The process takes up to five business days, and the exemption must be approved before you start work. Instructions for requesting an exemption are included in the review document.

Change Personal Information:
1. Click the Start button to the right of Change Personal Information to access the task.
2. Enter your date of birth and then click OK.

Note: University Health Services will use your date of birth to create your HealthConnect, which is where you will upload your vaccination records once you have been entered into the system and obtained your Andrew ID (university ID).
