

System Guide: Workday Recruiting for External Applicants

Audience: external applicant (non-CMU employee)

Introduction

Carnegie Mellon’s mission includes cultivating “a transformative university community committed to attracting and retaining diverse, world-class talent.” In support of this mission, the university strives to provide a consistent and engaging candidate experience and maintains an external Careers at Carnegie Mellon site where interested individuals can browse job opportunities and submit job applications.

Workday Recruiting, Carnegie Mellon’s human capital software, allows external applicants to create a Candidate Home account when they start their first application. From the Candidate Home account, applicants can submit and manage applications and view and respond to job offers.

Note: CMU employees should not submit job applications through the external Careers at Carnegie Mellon site. If you are currently employed by CMU (including the SEI), please go to the internal Careers at Carnegie Mellon site to submit your application.

Carnegie Mellon University does not discriminate in admission, employment, or administration of its programs or activities based on race, color, national origin, sex, handicap or disability, age, sexual orientation, gender identity, religion, creed, ancestry, belief, veteran status, or genetic information. Furthermore, Carnegie Mellon University does not discriminate and is required not to discriminate in violation of federal, state, or local laws or executive orders.

This document outlines the steps an external applicant takes in the processes listed below.
