

Costas Grigoropoulos received his Diploma Degrees in Naval Architecture and Marine Engineering (1978), and in Mechanical Engineering (1980) from the National Technical University of Athens, Greece. He holds a M.Sc. degree (1983), and a Ph.D. (1986), both in Mechanical Engineering from Columbia University. He was faculty at the University of Washington from 1986-1990 and has since been in the Department of Mechanical Engineering at the University of California at Berkeley. His current research interests are in micro/nano engineering, laser materials processing and micro/nano-machining, fabrication of flexible electronics and energy conversion devices, micro/nanofluidic transport and laser interactions with biological materials.  cgrigoro@berkeley.edu
