Dr. Gang Chen

Warren and Towneley Rohsenow Professor

Dr. Gang Chen received his Ph.D. from UC Berkeley in 1993. He taught at Duke University (1993-1997), UCLA (1997-2001) and is currently a professor at MIT. His research interests are on nanoscale transport phenomena, particularly thermal energy transport and conversion, and their applications in energy and information technologies. He is a recipient of the NSF Young Investigator Award and a Guggenheim Fellowship, and is an ASME fellow. He serves on the editorial board of four journals covering heat transfer and nanotechnology, and chairs the advisory board of ASME Nanotechnology Institute.
