Dear Class of 2022+,

On behalf of the Division of Student Affairs, welcome to the Carnegie Mellon University community. As you think about starting your college experience, you might be feeling a number of emotions — relief, excitement, anxiety or curiosity. The transition to college requires learning a new educational context and oftentimes, leaving home. Our Undergraduate Orientation program is here to help you start strong and discover the opportunities that will shape your collegiate experience.

This Orientation guide will help you launch into your first year. Please read the contents carefully so you are well prepared when you arrive on campus. This guide also introduces our extensive, full-week new student Orientation program that will focus on building community, your academic transition and introducing campus opportunities. Through formal and informal meetings with academic advisors and faculty members, programming within your residence halls, participation in traditional ceremonies and engaging in community-building activities, you’ll learn our institutional values of scholarship and community living.

The theme for this year’s Orientation program, Dare to Discover, is designed to showcase the many opportunities available to you as a Carnegie Mellon Tartan. We hope you will set goals during Orientation to make your mark on our campus and beyond. Orientation week will also help you create vibrant and meaningful memories of your first week on campus. Your engagement with Orientation Counselors, Resident Assistants, faculty, staff, alumni and even more importantly, with other new students, will help lay the foundation for your first year. The Orientation program aims to strengthen your connection to the university and provide you with a comprehensive set of personal and educational programs that will assist you in making a successful transition to our vibrant community. We are here to help you discover new experiences and opportunities as you begin your Carnegie Mellon journey. Ahead of you lay unlimited possibilities!

Anne Witchner Levin
Associate Dean of Student Affairs and
Director of Orientation and Family Programs

Julie Schultz
Associate Dean of Parent and Family Engagement and First-Year Orientation

Gwendolyn Stevens
Housefellow and Coordinator of Residential Education for Orientation
Welcome!

We are so excited to have you all join us in Pittsburgh this August! The seven of us, Head Orientation Counselors (HOCs), have been working all year for your arrival at Carnegie Mellon. The Orientation staff of HOCs, Orientation Leaders (OLs) and Orientation Counselors (OCs) are here to help you discover the amazing opportunities that await you. Whether you’re coming to campus from across the street or around the globe, your time at CMU will be full of discovery and daring moments, and we can’t wait to help you get started!

From conducting world class research, pursuing interdisciplinary academics, building a booth, driving a buggy or joining a student organization, there are so many thrilling aspects for you to explore on campus. In addition, Pittsburgh has so many unique experiences to offer. There is so much to jump into, whether biking along the river, exploring the many neighborhoods or visiting our city’s many museums. CMU and the greater Pittsburgh community is truly a place where you can be yourself and build upon and discover all of your passions. The best part is that when pursuing your interests, our community is full of people ready and willing to help you with whatever you need. But first, we’ll see you at Orientation to make sure you are in a perfect position to take full advantage of the University’s resources right from the start!

We cannot wait to see how you all will make your mark on this campus in your time here, and so, we welcome you, the Class of 2022+ to the Carnegie Mellon community. We hope that as you begin this new chapter of your life, you will discover new paths and explore the endless possibilities.

All Our Tartan Love,
Mason, Julia, Lily, Raghav, Christie, David and Anna-Jamieson
What to Bring for Your New Room

The following lists are designed to provide you with some general information regarding what to pack before you leave your home. Remember, you will not need everything that you own. Also, be sure to coordinate with your roommate or roommates to find out what they are bringing to eliminate duplicate items in the room.

In-Room Delivery!

Carnegie Mellon’s Student Dormitory Council (SDC) and the University Stores have teamed up with Bed Bath & Beyond to make move-in day easier!

Order your room essentials and extras by July 31 at bbby.com/cmu to have your items delivered directly to your room by SDC before you arrive.

Be sure to go to the special CMU site, not the regular Bed Bath & Beyond site, if you want in-room delivery. (The special delivery address at our Penn Avenue facility will auto-populate only on the special CMU site.) Orders placed after July 31 will be delivered through the regular campus package process.

Plan to shop at the Bed Bath & Beyond pop-up store on Move-In Day for any of your “last minute,” “left at home,” “too big to travel” items.

Here’s a list of helpful things to do and learn before arriving on campus. This booklet contains phone numbers and websites for more information.

The ABCs of Orientation

HOC Head Orientation Counselor
There are seven undergraduate students dedicated to planning the programs and events who are going to make your Orientation an unforgettable college experience. They are determined to make your transition to college life an exceptional experience!

OL Orientation Leader
Each HOC has their team of returning Orientation leaders who are chosen to take on a leadership role and additional responsibilities during Orientation. These veteran OLs arrive before the rest of the OC staff to assist the HOCs in preparing for Orientation.

OC Orientation Counselor
The OC staff is here to introduce you to the CMU community and to Pittsburgh. OCs are friendly, reliable and as eclectic as your first-year class. Feel free to approach them with any questions you may have. They will be your guides to campus life during Orientation week and will serve as invaluable resources after Orientation ends.
What's Already in the Room?
Every residence hall room or apartment comes with the following items for each resident:

- Bed with 39” x 80” extra-long mattress (bring your own linens)
- Desk and chair
- Bookshelf or hutch (as applicable)
- Closet or wardrobe
- Dresser
- Safety rails and ladder for lofted or bunked bed
- Window coverings
- High-speed network/internet access (wired and/or wireless connection depending on housing facility)
- Basic Cable TV service with activated cable TV jack (supply your own TV) and IPTV Service

The Essentials
You should definitely bring the following items with you when you move in:

- Alarm clock
- Backpack
- Clothes and hangers (Remember, it gets cold in Pittsburgh!)
- Desk lamp
- Laundry basket/bag and laundry soap
- Linens and towels (sheets, pillows, washcloths, etc.)
- Mugs, cups, plates, utensils
- Storage bins
- Toiletries (soap, shampoo, toothpaste, deodorant, etc.)
- Umbrella
- University documents

The Extras
You may want to consider some of the following optional items as well:

- Bicycle and bike lock
- Camera
- Computer
- Fan
- Games
- Headphones
- Iron
- Microwave (compact and under 700 watts)
- Power strip/surge protector
- Refrigerator* (110/120 VAC and under 4.5 cubic feet)
- Stereo/CD player
- TV

What NOT to Bring
The items listed below are not permitted in university housing and should definitely be left at home:

- Air conditioners (unless approved by Health Services)
- Candles/incense
- Hot plates or pressure cookers
- Hoverboards
- Pets (except for fish in an aquarium or service animals)
- Space heater
- Swimming pools, hot tubs or waterbeds

Follow Housing and ResEd
Before arriving on campus, follow these CMU accounts to get the latest news, photos and important information about living on campus!

*Microfridge units are available for rent through MicroFridge Rental.

CA & RA Community Advisor and Resident Assistant
These undergraduate leaders will live on your residential floor and in your residential building to assist you throughout the year. Community Advisors and Resident Assistants can help you navigate through both the Carnegie Mellon and Pittsburgh communities and answer any questions that you may have along the way. They will also plan programs to encourage interaction among residential students and aid in connecting residents to numerous on-campus resources and services.

HF Housefellow
Housefellows are members of the Division of Student Affairs staff who are responsible for a specific residential population known as a house. Each staff member works with a team of student staff members consisting of a Community Advisor and Resident Assistants to enhance the lives of their residents. Housefellows can assist with personal, academic or professional support and can serve as a resource for promoting your personal and academic success.
AlcoholEdu and Sexual Assault Prevention for Undergraduates

Carnegie Mellon University expects all new undergraduate students to complete two online courses: AlcoholEdu and Sexual Assault Prevention for Undergraduates, as part of our comprehensive alcohol abuse and sexual violence prevention programs. These courses will open on July 23 and must be completed by August 20, 2018. All students will receive an email invitation with instructions when the course opens. For details, visit cmu.edu/health-services/alcohol/AlcoholEdu.html.

Banking at Carnegie Mellon University

PNC Bank makes it easier for Carnegie Mellon students to keep track of their money. PNC has convenient on-campus locations, with nine ATMs and even a Customer Service Center on the lower level of Cohon Center. Plus, PNC offers Virtual Wallet® Student, with easy-to-use checking and saving accounts and interactive tools to help students develop solid money management skills. For even more convenience, you can use your ID Card as an ATM card if you choose to link it to your PNC Bank account. You’ll need only one card to get into your residence hall, pay for meals, do your laundry, get cash at ATMs and more!

PNC Bank ATMs on Campus
- Cohon University Center, 1st floor – two ATMs (one accepts deposits)
- Cohon University Center, lower level – two ATMs (accept deposits)
- Gates Building – 3rd floor
- Hunt Library – 1st floor
- Posner Hall – 1st floor rear entrance
- Tepper Quad Building
- Wean Hall – 5th floor lobby

PNC Bank Offices on and near Campus
- PNC Customer Service Center
  Cohon University Center, lower level
- Craig Street Branch – 4600 Fifth Avenue
- Oakland Branch – 4022 Fifth Avenue
- Squirrel Hill Branch – 5810 Forbes Avenue

To learn more, or to open an account, visit PNC Bank during Orientation, or any PNC Bank branch — including the campus location on the lower level of the Cohon University Center. You can also visit PNC online at pnc.com/carnegiemellon, or call 1-877-PNC-1000.

Computing on Campus

Before you arrive on campus, review the information below to help you prepare for computing at Carnegie Mellon.

Andrew Account

Your Andrew account is your gateway to computing at Carnegie Mellon. Your account gives you access to email, network registration, Computing Services public computer labs and other resources. For more information, visit cmu.edu/computing/students.

Check Your Email

As a student, official Carnegie Mellon email will be sent to your Andrew email address. Once you know your Andrew user ID and have set your Andrew account password, you can access your email at email.cmu.edu. It is important to check your email regularly. Package notifications will be sent to your Andrew email address.

Prepare Your Computer

For your convenience, public computer labs are available across campus and offer a variety of Windows, Mac and Linux computers, peripherals and an extensive complement of software. If you bring your own computer, note the operating systems we support, and the free software available for you to download or access remotely. If purchasing a new computer, contact our campus Computer Store staff at bookstore.web.cmu.edu and select Computer Sales for help and advice. Before arriving on campus, connect to the Carnegie Mellon network and be sure to secure your computer. For more information, visit cmu.edu/computing/students.

Wi-Fi Network

When you arrive on campus, connect to the wireless network. Find CMU-SECURE in your Wi-Fi list and log in using your Andrew user ID and password. To locate computer labs, set up printing to public printers and learn about other computing resources available to you visit cmu.edu/computing/students.

Need Computing Help?

Visit Cyert Hall Room 119 with computing- and account-related questions. Phone and email support are available from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. at 412-268-4357 or it-help@cmu.edu.
The HUB – Student Service Center

The HUB staff delivers comprehensive service and counsel to students and families regarding financial aid, billing, payments, registration and academic records. The HUB is located on the lower level of Warner Hall. For general questions and information, email thehub@andrew.cmu.edu, call 412-268-8186 or visit cmu.edu/hub. The assistant directors in The HUB serve as liaisons for specific colleges and assist enrolled students with key aspects of the enrollment process. Find your assigned HUB liaison on your Student Information Online (SIO) resource page or on The HUB website at www.cmu.edu/hub/contact.

Academic and Registration Information

View your approved class schedule via Student Information Online (SIO) on the Course Schedule screen. Each academic area handles registration differently for incoming students. See more details on pages 12-15. If you have questions about schedule changes, transfer credits or other issues regarding course registration, speak with your advisor on Thursday of Orientation Week.

Andrew User ID and Student ID Number

Your Andrew user ID and password provide access to numerous campus resources. Your Student ID Number can be found on the My Info screen in Student Information Online (SIO) at cmu.edu/hub/sio.

Dewar’s Tuition Insurance

Carnegie Mellon University collaborates with A.W.G. Dewar Inc. to provide students with an optional insurance program known as the Tuition Refund Plan. Insuring tuition, as well as required fees (activity, technology, media, and transportation), plus housing and dining, can reduce financial impact in the event of a serious illness or accident. Learn more at cmu.edu/sfs/billing/tuition-insurance.html.

ID Card and Plaid Cash

One of the most important items you will need at Carnegie Mellon is your official ID Card. This photo identification card classifies you as a member of the Carnegie Mellon community and will be part of your everyday campus life. You will use your card to access certain buildings and services, including public transportation. In order for your ID Card to be ready for pickup on the first day of Orientation, be sure to submit your photo online by July 9, 2018 by visiting cmu.edu/idplus. Students who do not submit a photo by the deadline or at all will need to visit The HUB in Warner Hall upon arriving to campus to have a photo taken and ID Card produced. Please note that Orientation is a peak time in The HUB, so lines may be long. A feature of your ID Card is Plaid Cash — a prepaid, stored-value/debit account that can be used to pay for textbooks and school supplies. Plaid Cash is accepted by some of the area’s most popular restaurants and retail stores. Questions about ID Cards and Plaid Cash may be directed to The HUB at idplus@andrew.cmu.edu or 412-268-8186. Learn more at cmu.edu/idplus/plaidcash.

“\nWhen I think of CMU, the first thing I think of is my friends, the second is booth and the third is Orientation — to link it all together. I met most of my closest friends during Orientation, and I participate in booth with them.\n”

Zachary Sikov
2018 Orientation Counselor
Tepper School of Business, Class of 2019

Students MUST take one of the following actions by SEPTEMBER 11, 2018:

1. Enroll in the health insurance plan offered by the university; or
2. Apply for a waiver, verifying that you already have health insurance that meets the university’s requirements.

Insurance requirement details, as well as enrollment and waiver information are available at cmu.edu/health-services/student-insurance.

Immunization Requirements

All incoming students must complete an online immunization form documenting required immunizations by June 30, 2018. A list of required immunizations and more details are available at cmu.edu/health-services/immunization. The online immunization form can be accessed by logging into HealthConnect with an Andrew ID through cmu.edu/health-services. Failure to comply with the university’s immunization requirement will result in administrative suspension and removal from University Housing.

Final Grade Report and AP Scores

Entering students must submit their Final High School Grade Report and all AP/IB/PSEO scores by July 1, 2018. Find the forms and more detail at admission.enrollment.cmu.edu/pages/ntie-dates-deadlines.

Health Insurance Requirements

All full-time students must have health insurance that meets the university’s requirements. The university offers Aetna student health insurance as well as optional vision and dental insurance plans. Students will be charged a health insurance fee for the Aetna Student insurance plan. This fee will appear on the first semester invoice.
Student Financial Services

Student account invoices are produced on the last calendar day of each month and include all posted activity for current and future semesters. When your invoice is ready to be viewed on Student Information Online (SIO), an email will be sent to your Andrew email account. You will be notified of your first invoice June 30, 2018. A variety of payment options are available for Carnegie Mellon students and families. The fastest, most convenient way for you to make a payment to your student account or to receive a refund from the university is through Online Banking. Simply register your U.S. checking or savings account in SIO to use this free service.

If your parent or another individual would like to view student account invoices and activity, as well as make payments, we encourage you to invite them to use My Plaid Student. Learn more at cmu.edu/hub.

The HUB and Student Financial Aid Office work together to provide students and families a high level of customer service and effective, efficient delivery of financial assistance from federal, state, private and institutional sources. Learn more about financial aid at Carnegie Mellon at cmu.edu/sfs/financial-aid.

Student Information Online (SIO)

Student Information Online (SIO) serves as your student profile and you should ensure it is kept up-to-date with your family's most recent contact information. You will log in to cmu.edu/hub/sio using your Andrew user ID and password to:

• View grades, QPA and enrollment status
• Order transcripts and verifications
• Plan your course schedule and complete course registration activities (for Spring 2018 and beyond)
• View financial aid details, including awards, application status and federal loan information
• View student account invoices and activity
• Make payments via Online Banking and designate a bank account for electronic refunds
• Manage family and friend contact information and invite individuals to view your student account invoices, make payments and order verifications through My Plaid Student
• View housing and meal plan assignments

Student Privacy and FERPA

Carnegie Mellon University values students' rights to privacy and adheres to the Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA). In accordance with FERPA, Carnegie Mellon officials do not disclose information from a student record without the student's consent. The policy applies to all Carnegie Mellon University students, faculty, staff and school officials. For more information, visit cmu.edu/hub/privacy.

Postal Services

CMU Postal Services is a full-service USPS post office owned and operated by Carnegie Mellon University located on the lower level of Cohon Center. Postal Services offers a wide range of products and services, such as stamps, postage, mailing boxes, envelopes, tape, USPS forms and money orders. CMU Postal Services is your one-stop destination for your domestic and international shipping and mailing needs.

Student Mail Code (SMC)

All incoming first-year students are assigned a four-digit Student Mail Code (SMC) that matches a mailbox in university Postal Services, located on the lower level of the Cohon Center. Your SMC code is used to route all USPS, FedEx, DHL, UPS mail, parcels and campus mail to your student mailbox and/or the package pickup window.

SMC and Post Office Box Combination

After you are enrolled, go to Student Information Online (SIO) at cmu.edu/hub/sio under the My Info tab to retrieve your four-digit Student Mail Code (SMC) and post office box combination. Please retrieve this information prior to coming to Postal Services to retrieve mail and packages. No information about SMCs or post office box combinations will be provided at Postal Service’s front counter or at the package pickup window.

![Your Carnegie Mellon Mailing Address:

Use the following address (“xxxx” is your four-digit Student Mail Code or SMC) for all of USPS, FedEx, UPS and DHL deliveries. For example:

Student’s Name
SMC xxxx
5032 Forbes Avenue
Pittsburgh, PA 15289-xxxx]
Forwarding Mail to Campus
To forward mail from your permanent address to your Carnegie Mellon address fill out the United States Postal Service Official Mail Forwarding Form, available from usps.com. You must include SMC “xxxx” on Line 7a of the form. If you fail to do so, the delivery of your mail may be delayed and cannot be guaranteed.

Shipping Belongings to Campus
Due to limited storage space and the large volume of incoming parcels received at the start of each semester, please follow these guidelines:

• Do not ship your belongings until two weeks prior to your arrival on campus
• Maximum box dimensions are 20”x20”x20” in length, width, height
• Maximum box weight is 35 pounds. When ordering textbooks online, please ask the vendor to consolidate shipments whenever possible

Claiming Packages and Mail
Mail that fits inside of a mailbox and does not contain a tracking number will be placed inside your mailbox on the lower level of the Cohon Center. Mail that contains a tracking number or does not fit inside the mailbox will be directed to package pickup, also located on the lower level of the Cohon Center. Once the item is processed, an automated email will be sent to your CMU email account. The item will only be available after it has been processed. To claim mail at the package pickup door, present a photo ID (CMU ID, driver’s license, passport, etc.), provide your SMC and the number of emails you received from the notification system.

Holding Mail During Summer and Semester Breaks
Mail and packages will be held during the winter and spring breaks. A 10-day limitation on mail/packages is enforced during the academic year and summer break. During summer break, be sure to address mail to your current location. If you choose, CMU Postal Services can forward mail for you. Mail forwarding is available for locations within the United States only. Mail forwarding request forms are available at cmu.edu/postoffice/forward-mail. Temporary forwards remain in effect until the end date listed on the request form or until Postal Service is notified by emailing post-office@andrew.cmu.edu. Permanent forwards (such as those for graduating students or students leaving campus) last for 30 days after their change in status. Postal Services does not accept temporary or permanent forwarding requests by phone, email or in person.

Textbooks and Course Materials
The University Store is the official textbook provider for Carnegie Mellon University. The online bookstore lets students preorder textbooks, choose from various formats (eBooks, rentals, loose-leaf, used, new), and compare prices from third party vendors like Amazon. The store also lists supplementary course information — such as if an instructor provides more materials through Canvas or recommends students use a certain calculator.

Students may search for textbooks at bookstore.mbsdirect.net/CarnegieMellon.htm. Simply enter all course numbers into the site and the requested materials from the instructors will populate. Some textbooks also include a guaranteed buyback price — the amount the student can get back for their book at the end of the semester. After selecting course materials to purchase, choose delivery to either the University Store, SMC mailbox, or to a permanent mailing address.

The Art Store provides course materials for Art and Design majors. The store works directly with instructors to create kits with all the necessary supplies at a discounted price. Students may preorder kits online at bookstore.web.cmu.edu. Kits are available for pick-up at the Art Store beginning move-in weekend.

Writing Course Placement for Non-Native English Speakers
All non-native English speakers are required to take an online writing placement test before classes begin, Monday, August 27, 2018. If you have not yet participated in the placement, you will not be able to complete your First-Year Writing course requirement offered by the English Department. Please email Dr. Danielle Wetzel at engfirst@andrew.cmu.edu to register.

“Orientation is an opportunity to focus on the best part of CMU: the people. You will get to know the community which will push you to grow and learn in the next chapter of your life. Collaboration, late night conversations and passionate work are the building blocks of the CMU experience, and Orientation will give you a taste of it all.”

Summer Welcome Events

Alumni, parents and the Office of Orientation host welcome receptions for all first-year students and their families throughout the summer. Welcome events provide an opportunity to meet future classmates, current students, alumni and university staff members. All events are free, but space is limited, so register early. After registering, a confirmation notification will be emailed that includes the event’s location and venue information. To see the full schedule of events and to register, visit alumni.cmu.edu/welcome2cmu.

Carnegie Mellon Alumni Association

The CMU Alumni Association is a global network of more than 110,000 alumni, with staff and volunteers creating opportunities to bring students and alumni together. Participate in activities throughout the year to learn CMU traditions and network with alumni from varied backgrounds, career fields and cities around the world. Students have immediate access to join the online community and CMU LinkedIn group, and are encouraged to get involved with student organizations on campus, to attend events, and to consider membership in the Highland Ambassadors. These provide valuable leadership experience while serving the campus community. Learn more at alumni.cmu.edu/students.

Academic Registration

The process for signing up for classes varies across the colleges. See the following pages regarding individual college procedures.

Placement Exams
The university offers placement exams for certain subject areas. Check with your academic advisor to determine if placement exams are required or recommended to inform your academic registration.

Computing @ Carnegie Mellon
Computing@Carnegie Mellon (C@CM) is a required course that teaches foundational skills in information literacy and safe, responsible and effective computing. It focuses on the tools and technologies that are specific to Carnegie Mellon. The course can be completed online or in-person. College and academic advisor will provide more information during course registration. Learn more at cmu.edu/c-cm.
BXA Intercollege Degree Programs (BCSA, BHA and BSA)

The BXA Meet and Greet to welcome students and family members is August 19, at 2:30 p.m. in Margaret Morrison Carnegie Hall, Room A-11. The BXA Orientation Breakfast is August 23, at 8:45 a.m. in Margaret Morrison Carnegie Hall, Room 121.

1. Students are mailed a welcome letter in early June.
2. The BXA office will contact each student by email to discuss course selection, placement and registration in June.
3. The BXA office will register students for classes in July.
4. Students can review their schedule online in the first week of August.
5. Students with questions about their schedule may contact Dr. Carrie Hagan, BXA Associate Director and first-year advisor at 412-268-8326 or csh@andrew.cmu.edu.

College of Engineering

1. Early June: Students will be enrolled in an engineering Canvas course that contains important information about placement tests, AP/IB credit and course registration.
2. June: Your first-year academic advisor will contact you to discuss registration, timelines and other steps you need to complete prior to coming to campus.
3. Mid July: Students submit a draft of proposed class schedule for approval.
4. Late July: Students register for classes online.
5. July-August: Students can opt to enroll in the Computing@Carnegie Mellon online course (C@CM).
6. Orientation Week: Optional math placement exams are available (if eligible); resolve any scheduling issues in person with advisor.
College of Fine Arts (CFA)

Architecture
1. Students will receive an email to their personal email accounts in early June directing them to activate their CMU email accounts.
2. Placement exams will be conducted in June/early July. Students who speak English as a second language are REQUIRED to take the online English Placement test.
3. Students will then be emailed information regarding the supplies needed to start their first year in the School of Architecture, the mentoring program in architecture, instructions to join the AIAS and computer requirements.
4. All first-year architecture students will be registered into their required courses by Erica Oman, School of Architecture Academic Advisor.
5. Students with questions may contact Heather Workinger Midgley, first-year faculty advisor, at haw5@cmu.edu.

Art
1. First-semester School of Art students are preregistered for the majority of their classes.
2. In June, students will receive information regarding course scheduling, materials and common first-year questions.
3. In July, students submit their preferences for mediums in their introductory sculpture course.
4. Students can check their schedules through SIO in mid-August and will receive a copy of their final schedule during Orientation.
5. Students with questions may contact Mark Cato at 412-268-1531 or mdcato@andrew.cmu.edu.

Design
1. Upon acceptance, all first-year Design students are encouraged to join Facebook Group “CMU Design Class of 2022.”
2. By early June, Melissa Cicozi, design academic advisor, will email all first-years using their CMU email addresses.
3. Throughout the summer, students will receive important course registration and supply lists via both email and Facebook.
4. Design students share a common first semester and are preregistered for all of their courses.
5. Students with questions may contact Melissa Cicozi at cicozi@cmu.edu.

Drama
1. First-semester School of Drama students have a set curriculum and are pre-registered for classes.
2. Amy Nichols will register students for classes during the last two weeks of July.
3. After August 5, students will be able to view their schedules through the SIO website.
4. Students with questions may contact Amy Nichols at 412-268-1581 or nicholsa@andrew.cmu.edu.

Music
1. Students are emailed enrollment information by the first week of June.
2. Students will send special requests for courses electronically by the first week of July.
3. All first-year music students will be registered for most of their courses by the School of Music by the first week of August.
4. On August 8, students can review their schedules online.
5. By August 15, if a student is not registered for any courses, please contact Sharon Johnston at sjl@andrew.cmu.edu or 412-268-2385.
6. During Orientation Week, students will take placement tests in harmony and solfege, and their schedules will be completed.

Dietrich College of Humanities and Social Sciences (DC)
1. In mid-June, students will receive a welcome letter via their CMU email from their Dietrich College academic advisor that contains information regarding the Dietrich Academic Advisory Center (AAC) snapchat account and instructions for accessing a course in Canvas that contains all the information and tools students will need to plan their fall schedule.
2. Students should begin to work through this course as soon as they are able. Upon completion, students may begin scheduling one-on-one appointments with their academic advisor (in person, phone or Skype) to discuss their backgrounds, interests and general plan for a fall schedule.
3. After receiving advisor approval, students will register for classes in late July.

Humanities Scholars Program (HSP)
1. HSP students are invited into the program when admitted to Dietrich College based on their demonstrated interest in the study of the humanities.
2. All HSP students are enrolled in a fall semester HSP-specific Freshman Seminar.
3. Students should work with their academic advisor in Dietrich College’s AAC over the summer to create a fall schedule.
4. Students are welcome to contact the HSP director, Professor Tim Haggerty, at any time before arriving to campus. Otherwise, they will have the opportunity to meet him during Orientation Week. Professor Tim Haggerty can be reached at 412-268-6211 or th1h@andrew.cmu.edu.
5. For more information visit cmu.edu/dietrich/hsp.
Quantitative Social Science Scholars Program (QSSS)

1. QSSS students are invited into the program when admitted to Dietrich College based on their expressed interest, aptitude and achievements in quantitative fields of study.
2. After accepting admittance into the program, scholars may elect to join affinity housing with other QSSS classmates through the Housing Office (first come, first served).
3. All QSSS students are enrolled in a fall semester QSSS-specific Freshman Seminar.
4. Students should work with their academic advisor in Dietrich College’s AAC over the summer to create a fall schedule.
5. Students are welcome to contact the QSSS director, Professor Mark Patterson, at any time before they arrive on campus. Otherwise, they will have the opportunity to meet him during Orientation Week. Mark Patterson can be reached at 412-268-5680 or via email at mpatters@andrew.cmu.edu.
6. For more information visit cmu.edu/dietrich/qsss.

Mellon College of Science (MCS)

1. By June 8: Students receive a welcome message that informs them about how to access online course registration materials through Canvas. These messages are sent via CMU email.
2. July 8: Students MUST submit an online course registration form by this date. Students are registered for courses on a first-come, first-served basis.
3. June and July: Students who speak English as a second language MUST take the online English Placement exam. Students can opt to enroll in the Computing@Carnegie Mellon online course (C@CM) and/or take an optional Computer Science placement exam. Prospective math majors should also plan to complete an online math preparation course.
4. July 16 to August 10: Drs. Maggie Braun and Ken Hovis will register students for their classes from July 16 through August 10. Schedule changes will not be made during this period.
5. August 13: Students can review their schedules online and begin to request schedule changes. If a student does not have a schedule by this date, they should contact Dr. Maggie Braun at mabraun@andrew.cmu.edu or 412-268 6679.
6. Orientation Week: Students can opt to take calculus, advanced math and/or physics placement exams (if eligible). Students can also meet with Drs. Braun and Hovis in-person to discuss scheduling concerns.

School of Computer Science (SCS)

1. Jacobo Carrasquel, the SCS freshman advisor, will contact the students via email by the end of May.
2. Many documents, forms, placement tests and important information will be provided incrementally throughout the summer months. For step-by-step instructions visit cs.cmu.edu/~jxc/advising.
3. During May, June and July, SCS students will take several placement tests and surveys. Once completed, SCS students will discuss their fall semester registration with Jacobo. As their schedules are approved, students should be able to register online by themselves. Registration should be completed by the end of July.
4. Reviews and changes to schedules will be done through the month of August and during Orientation Week.

Science and Humanities Scholars Program (SHS)

1. Science and Humanities Scholars receive course registration information at their Carnegie Mellon Andrew email accounts in early June.
2. SHS students complete placement exams and express course preferences by early July.
3. The SHS Program director and senior academic advisor register students for classes throughout July.
4. SHS students can review their schedules online in early August.
5. Schedule issues, including changes, can be discussed with Dr. William Alba, the SHS program director, and Veronica Peet, the SHS senior academic advisor, throughout the summer and during Orientation Week. His office is Doherty Hall 2201 and he can also be reached by email alba@andrew.cmu.edu. She can be reached by email vpeet@andrew.cmu.edu.
6. During Orientation Week as well as throughout their college careers, SHS students are welcome to all events for MCS (Mellon College of Science) and DC (Dietrich College of Humanities & Social Sciences) students. The SHS Welcome Dinner occurs on Tuesday of Orientation Week.

Tepper School of Business (TPR)

1. First-year business administration students will receive access to the Class of 2022 website that prepares students for the fall semester in early June.
2. In June and July, students will interact with academic advisors, engage with new classmates, take course placement exams and more through the website and other virtual outlets.
3. Students will register for classes in late July.
4. During Orientation Week, students will meet with academic advisors, attend group advising sessions and be welcomed into the Tepper undergraduate community.
Pre-Orientation Programs

Varsity Football Players’ and Parents’ Orientation

An Orientation program will be held for first-year football players on Tuesday, August 14, from noon to 4 p.m. Since players are not able to fully participate in the full week of Orientation due to practice schedules, this program is designed to address many of the topics covered during Orientation. The players will be released from their practices to attend many of the house-based programs and the academic programming during the week of Orientation. A mailing with more information will be sent to players in mid-July.

ORIGINS: Overnight Pre-Orientation Retreat

ORIGINS is an overnight, pre-orientation retreat for students from identity groups that are underrepresented or minoritized in our Carnegie Mellon community, including students who are the first generation to go to college in their families, and Pell grant recipients. Connect and create community with other incoming and upper-class students, faculty, staff, and alumni and get the inside scoop on thriving at CMU. ORIGINS participants move into their residence early on Friday morning, August 17, 2018. The program starts in the afternoon with lunch for students, family members and key university partners. After lunch, students depart for Lutherlyn Retreat Center and return to campus Saturday evening, August 18, for the start of Orientation activities. Space is limited and pre-registration is required by July 13, 2018. For more information, contact the Center for Student Diversity and Inclusion by email at csdi@andrew.cmu.edu or visit cmu.edu/student-diversity.
Move-In Day and Room Key Pickup

Saturday, August 18 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.*

To facilitate an efficient move-in process, all students will be assigned a designated move-in time. Orientation counselors, resident assistants and other staff and volunteers will be on-site to assist with residence hall move-in. Complete details regarding the residence hall move-in and key pickup process will be available at cmu.edu/housing beginning August 1.

* If arriving after 3 p.m. on Saturday, August 18, students must visit the Housing Office at the Residence on Fifth (4700 Fifth Avenue, 2nd floor) to collect Andrew ID card and/or keys. Students who are unable to move in on August 18 must contact Housing at 412-268-2139 to make accommodations.

Shirley Apartments Key Pickup

Enter the designated traffic pattern to proceed to the Shirley Apartments Key Pickup Location.

Commuter Students

Orientation is for all incoming first-year and new undergraduate students, whether they commute or live in a university residence hall. It is important that all students participate in the week-long program to help with the transition to Carnegie Mellon and to Pittsburgh. Commuter students will be assigned to an Orientation group and Orientation Counselors. A Welcome Reception will be held for commuter students on Sunday, August 19.

International Students

International students move in with their first-year classmates on Saturday, August 18. International students must attend a mandatory immigration information and check-in session on Sunday, August 19. The Office of International Education (OIE) will provide additional details, via an email to the student’s Andrew ID (Carnegie Mellon email address), about this and other sessions of particular relevance to international students and their families. For a Settling In Guide, answers to frequently asked questions (FAQs) and information about orientation, visit the OIE website at cmu.edu/oie.

International students were asked to submit several forms by June 15, 2018 including the International Student Information Form, the Affidavit of Support for Financial Sponsor and International Student Instructions Form. If you have not yet submitted those forms, visit admission.enrollment.cmu.edu/pages/ntie-international-students for more information or contact the Office of International Education at oie@andrew.cmu.edu.

International Students Move-In Day:
Saturday, August 18 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Mandatory Immigration Information and Check-In Session
Sunday, August 19

Transfer Students

Orientation is valuable to helping new undergraduate students transition to Carnegie Mellon — whether they live on campus or not. Transfer students will be assigned to an Orientation group and Orientation Counselors. A Welcome Reception will be held for transfer students on Sunday,

---

Welcome Weekend: Move-In and Family Orientation

Parents and family members are invited to attend Welcome Weekend. A detailed schedule of events will be available online in August. Students and guests will receive a detailed Orientation schedule at move-in.

Orientation Week:
Monday, August 20 – Sunday, August 26

New students will be involved in a variety of academic, social, cultural and recreational programs. Each day will be filled with opportunities and events that will help students get acclimated to Carnegie Mellon and Pittsburgh.

Dining During Orientation

Beginning with lunch on Sunday, August 19, all of your meals during Orientation will be provided and covered by the cost of your Dining Plan. Dining Services works closely with the Orientation staff to serve exciting and delicious themed meals. Your regular dining plan, which is encoded on your student ID Card, begins at breakfast on Sunday, August 26.

Orientation Website

Check out the official Orientation website to find answers to frequently asked questions and submit your own questions to be answered by our experienced staff. As Orientation approaches, the website expands to include a full schedule of all Orientation events and a variety of other tools to help you get the most out of the week.

◦ cmu.edu/student-affairs/orientation/orientation
Carnegie Mellon is committed to supporting and fostering the intellectual and personal growth of all students. There are many resources, staff and departments that provide services and programs to enhance the intellectual, occupational, emotional, spiritual, physical and cultural development of students.
Walk-In Peer Tutoring is a drop-in service offered Sunday-Thursday evenings in the Donner Reading Room, the Mudge Reading Room, the Roger Sorrells Engineering & Science Library, Hunt Library and the Residence on Fifth. Tutoring is also available on select afternoons in Cyert Hall B6-A. Complete schedules are posted on their website by the end of the second week of classes in each term. They expect to offer tutoring for the following subjects:

- Biochemistry
- Calculus
- Calculus in 3D
- Cell Biology
- Chemistry
- Chinese
- Computer Science
- Concepts of Mathematics
- Economics
- Engineering
- Genetics
- Multivariate
- Organic Chemistry
- Physics
- Writing

EXCEL Collaborative Learning Groups are offered for a select number of traditionally difficult courses. EXCEL groups meet weekly throughout the term and are facilitated by trained student leaders who have already completed the course and earned an A. The groups have approximately nine students and are formed on an as-needed basis. Sessions are interactive, collaborative and geared specifically to the group members. Students can register online in order to be assigned to a group.

Weekly Tutoring Appointments are intended for students who feel additional support is needed for any course not supported by EXCEL Collaborative Learning Groups. If a course is supported by either Walk-in Peer Tutoring or Supplemental Instruction (SI), please utilize those services before requesting a Weekly Tutoring Appointment.

Carnegie Mellon University Police Department

The CMUPD includes 24 sworn police officers, 42 security guards, five dispatchers, 15 transportation drivers and one business administrator. Services include police patrols and call response, criminal investigations, shuttle and escort services, fixed guard and foot guard patrols, event security, dignitary protection, and crime prevention and educational programming. The Police Department comprises two divisions. The Police Services Division consists of all police and dispatch related operations and personnel. The Special Services Division consists of security, transportation, technology and support. Each division is commanded by a police lieutenant and each patrol shift is supervised by one of four sergeants. The Police Department responds to approximately 21,300 calls for service annually. The campus maintains a very low crime rate and the entire police staff is committed to keeping the Carnegie Mellon community safe.

CMU Escort Service

The CMU escort service is a transportation option that services the areas surrounding Carnegie Mellon including Squirrel Hill, Shadyside and Oakland. This is an evening and nighttime service that operates from 6:30 p.m. to 6:30 a.m. The escort service gets CMU community members to the intersection nearest their residence. Service is limited to four designated zones (green, blue, red and yellow) surrounding the main campus. The escort service is utilized exclusively to get to one's residence. It is not available to get to campus or other locations.
CMU Shuttle Service

The Carnegie Mellon shuttle service is a fixed-route, fixed-stop transportation option available to all CMU students, faculty and staff. Shuttle buses are assigned to different geographical areas around Carnegie Mellon. Shuttles service Oakland and Shadyside neighborhoods. Shadyside service extends to Shady Avenue for access to East Liberty businesses and restaurants. Daily, roundtrip service from campus to Bakery Square (Google headquarters) and the Pittsburgh Technology Center are also available. The Bakery Square shuttle operates 10 hours a day on weekdays. The PTC shuttle operates 16 hours a day during the week and 10 hours a day during the weekend.

Career and Professional Development Center (CPDC)

The Career and Professional Development Center believes each person’s career journey is unique. To assist students in their individual career journeys, the CPDC created the myCareerPath program:

mySELF: This step is designed to help you to discover who you are and what you stand for. Who you are is more than what you can do; it is about who you are at a fundamental level.

- Interest Assessments
- Informational Interviews
- Alumni Shadowing
- Individual Career Consultations

mySTORY: Once you determine who you are and your unique values, it’s time to craft your story. How do you communicate your skills, abilities, interests ... your story, to the world?

- Resume
- Online Profile
- Cover Letters
- And more ...

myCONNECTIONS: The final step in myCareerPath is to grow your network and get your story out there. Who do you know and who knows you? You may be surprised when you begin to consider all the people who are in your life.

- Family
- Alumni
- Recruiters
- Professional Groups

The Center for Student Diversity and Inclusion

Located on the lower level of the Cohon Center, The Center for Student Diversity and Inclusion offers resources to enhance the student experience in dimensions such as access, advocacy, success, campus climate and intergroup dialogue. The Center supports and connects historically underrepresented and minoritized students, those who are first in their family to attend college, and Pell grant recipients, in a setting where students’ differences and talents are guided, appreciated, and reinforced in intersectional and social justice lenses. Some of The Center’s initiatives include:

- First Generation/First in Family to Attend College Programs
- Race and Ethnically-Focused Programs
- Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Queer and Questioning (LGBQ+) Programs
- Transgender and Non-Binary/Genderqueer Student Programs
- Women’s Programs
- Bystander and Safe Zone Trainings

To learn more about The Center, programs, initiatives, and staff, visit cmu.edu/student-diversity, email at csdi@andrew.cmu.edu, or call 412-268-2150.

“"This next four years will be an incredible opportunity for you to grow not only as a student but as a young adult. From learning new topics to making friends from around the world to changing your beliefs, the only thing you can guarantee about your time at CMU is that you’ll look back one day and be proud of your development.”

2018 Orientation Counselor
Dietrich College, Class of 2019
Counseling and Psychological Services
Counseling and Psychological Services (CaPS) offers a variety of services to address the mental health needs of the CMU community. CaPS provides a safe, confidential environment to talk about personal or academic concerns. CaPS assists students who need to connect with mental health resources in the community and support staff, faculty and parents who have concerns about the well-being of a student. Their focus is to promote students’ capacity for psychological growth and maturation through greater self-awareness and psychological insight. See cmu.edu/counseling for more information.

Division of Student Affairs Resource Guide
Whether seeking support for medical, financial, personal or academic help see cmu.edu/student-affairs/resources for a quick guide to expert staff who can provide the necessary resources and programs to address a range of issues.

Global Communication Center (GCC)
The Global Communication Center provides free communication consulting to all undergraduate and graduate students on any written, visual or oral communication project. A trained consultant can offer you feedback on a wide range of academic and professional genres:

• Class Essays (including required First-Year Writing courses)
• PowerPoint Slides
• Personal Statements
• Resumes/Cover Letters
• Oral Presentations
• Lab Reports

Visit them at any stage in the composing process:

• Brainstorming
• Writing
• Revising
• Editing

GCC tutors are recruited for their superior communication skills and receive extensive training to provide students with expert communication advice in the sciences and humanities. You can schedule a free 50-minute appointment directly on the website or walk in to the office on the first floor of the Hunt Library. They are open Sunday – Thursday. For more information or to schedule an appointment, visit cmu.edu/gcc. Contact the GCC at gcc-cmu@andrew.cmu.edu or 412-268-9633.

Intercultural Communication Center
The Intercultural Communication Center is a support service designed to help nonnative English speakers (newly arrived international students as well as students who attended high school in the U.S.) develop the English language skills and cultural understanding needed to succeed at Carnegie Mellon. The center offers:

• Individual appointments (if requested) to advise students on issues related to language or classroom culture
• Non-credit seminars and workshops to develop academic language skills
• The ITA test to certify the language skills of any nonnative speaker of English (graduate or undergraduate) who plans to work as a teaching assistant

For more information call 412-268-4979, email eslhelp@andrew.cmu.edu or visit cmu.edu/icc.

Student Employment
This program serves all full-time students regardless of work-study eligibility status. Having a work-study award does not guarantee a job. All students interested in working are responsible for finding and applying for a campus job. On-campus jobs are advertised in Handshake, Carnegie Mellon’s online recruiting system. Students access Handshake at cmu.edu/career, using their Andrew ID and password. To apply for a campus job, first upload a resume into the Handshake system. Each employer interviews applicants and selects the candidate to hire. Students are paid by the hour on a biweekly basis through the Carnegie Mellon Payroll System. Resources and information on forms that new student employees must complete are at cmu.edu/cmuworks/new-hires.

Students with Disabilities
Qualified individuals are entitled to reasonable accommodations under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA). Carnegie Mellon makes great efforts to provide physical, digital and programmatic campus access to everyone. Individuals with documented disabilities may be eligible to receive services and accommodations from Carnegie Mellon’s Office of Disability Resources. To access services/accommodations, individuals must first refer themselves to Disability Resources. The first step in this process is to apply for disability accommodations at rainier.accessiblelearning.com/cmu. Students will need their Andrew ID and password to log in. Once the application is submitted, they will receive an email that it has been received, and Disability Resources staff will contact them promptly to set up an initial appointment. Students may identify themselves as having a disability at any time. Accommodations are determined on a case-by-case basis. All information will be considered confidential and only released to appropriate personnel on a need-to-know basis. For more information on services to students with disabilities, please contact Catherine Getchell at getchell@cmu.edu or access@andrew.cmu.edu or by phone at 412-268-6121. More information is available at cmu.edu/education-office/disability-resources.
Study Abroad
Over 500 Carnegie Mellon students from all majors study abroad annually. With careful planning, students may study abroad for a semester, academic year or during the summer in various countries around the world. A well-planned study abroad program will allow a student to receive credit for study abroad coursework and graduate on time. Many students are able to use their Carnegie Mellon funding for these study abroad experiences. Additionally, there are opportunities for short-term, noncredit study abroad as well. More information can be found at cmu.edu/studyabroad.

Summer Undergraduate Research Apprenticeship (SURA)
The Summer Undergraduate Research Apprenticeship (SURA) course awards up to 9 credits of tuition-free elective credit to undergraduates at Carnegie Mellon for up to 135 hours of student participation in existing research projects under the direction of a Carnegie Mellon faculty member. SURA is designed to be an entry point to undergraduate research and creative inquiry and is open to students who have little or no prior research experience at Carnegie Mellon.

University Health Services
University Health Services (UHS) provides medical care for acute and chronically ill individuals. Appropriate referrals are made when specialty consultation or diagnostic studies are necessary. Please see cmu.edu/health-services for more information.

University Store
The University Store, located in the Cohon Center, is independently owned and operated by Carnegie Mellon University. The store provides what students need to get the most out of their education.

Campus Spirit and Life
Campus Spirit sells CMU-branded clothing, home decor and professional gifts. Campus Life carries school supplies and the items you need to make your dorm your home — from folders and binders to extension cords and fans. Merchandise can be ordered online and shipped at bookstore.web.cmu.edu. Contact us at 412-268-1032 or email cmu-bookstore@andrew.cmu.edu.

Computer Sales and Service
Located within the University Store on the lower level, Computer Sales and Service is a one-stop shop for technology needs. Academic pricing is available on a large selection of items from Apple, Dell, Lenovo and more. We are authorized to service Apple, Dell and Lenovo products. For more information, email ps00@andrew.cmu.edu, call 412-268-2636, or visit bookstore.web.cmu.edu and select Computer Sales.

Undergraduate Research Office
The Undergraduate Research Office (URO) supports student research in every field of study. They award Small Undergraduate Research Grants (SURF) to cover research expenses; Summer Undergraduate Research Fellowships (SURF) for full-time summer research; International SURF (ISURG) for those who are studying abroad to conduct research; and Presentation Awards to support students presenting at academic conferences. In May of each year, they hold the campus-wide celebration of undergraduate research, Meeting of the Minds.

The URO supports students conducting research and creative projects in every field at the university. All students are eligible to participate — first-years through seniors, in any discipline. Students may participate many times in their undergraduate careers. All applicants for grants and fellowships submit proposals. The website, cmu.edu/uro provides proposal-writing guidelines. The URO holds proposal writing workshops, and its director and assistant directors advise students on their projects and proposals.

Tartan Ink – Printing and Shipping Center
Tartan Ink is the university’s copying and shipping center located on the lower level of Cohon University Center. For information, please call 412-268-4828, email tartanink@andrew.cmu.edu or visit. Tartan Ink services include:

- Binding and finishing
- Copying and printing
- Scanning materials
- UPS shipping and drop-off location

Send files via WebCopy at webcopy, campusservices.cmu.edu or visit the store.

Art Store
Conveniently located on the lower level of the Cohon Center, the Art Store carries supplies for fine arts students and casual hobbyists. If your department requires an art kit, it can be found at the Art Store or on the Art Store's homepage. The store offers competitive prices and can custom order products and supplies. For more information, contact Amy Daly at adaly@andrew.cmu.edu or 412-268-2968.
Veteran Benefits Information and ROTC Program Opportunities

Carnegie Mellon is a Veteran Education Program supporting school. Learn about what Veterans Educational benefits may be available to you and the process of using them to support your education. Carnegie Mellon also participates in ROTC Programs for qualified students. Naval, Army and Air Force ROTC are hosted at Carnegie Mellon. Learn about the requirements and the benefits of these programs. For more information, contact Michael Danko, MSG, USA, Ret. ROTC Programs Manager and Veterans Benefits Coordinator at mdanko@andrew.cmu.edu.

Wellness Initiatives

The Division of Student Affairs provides an array of resources and opportunities that support and empower individual and communal well-being. While we recognize that each person defines and practices wellness differently, prioritizing healthy habits is critical to a successful, sustainable and meaningful life. BeWell@CMU is our way of supporting these practices, through venues like our Mindfulness Room, academic courses such as Mindful Living, organizations like Peer Health Advocates and Active Minds, and programs like Paws to Relax and the Mind, Body and Spirit Summit. Recently, CMU has partnered with Headspace, the #1 mindfulness app on itunes, and now all community members have a free membership. Upon your arrival, you will receive access to all of these resources and to the students, faculty and staff leaders who support them. By signing up for monthly BeWell newsletter, you will be one of the first to know about all the opportunities, events and initiatives that can support your well-being.

The WORD: Student Handbook

Whether in labs and classrooms, on the athletic field, in studios, on stage or in service to the Pittsburgh community, Carnegie Mellon students are expected to take ownership of their education and apply their knowledge and passions to broader contexts. Being familiar with the standards of the CMU community and the resources that will support you in all these endeavors is a responsibility each community member must uphold. The WORD can be found at cmu.edu/student-affairs/theword.

“Before I arrived at Orientation, I was really nervous that I was not good enough or smart enough to be at a school like Carnegie Mellon. But after going to all the events and seeing how passionate and diverse this campus is, I knew that I wasn’t going to let anything convince me that I should leave. Orientation also played a huge part in my decision to try new things at CMU and I’ll always be thankful for that.”

Michelle Wiedmann
2018 Orientation Leader
College of Engineering, Class of 2019
Student-run organizations and activities are a great way to find your niche on campus. Carnegie Mellon boasts many opportunities to get involved on campus beyond academic connections. Over the years, students have established organizations that match the social, service, media, academic, gender, artistic, spiritual, recreational, sports, religious, political, cultural and governance interests of our campus community.
The Bridge

The Bridge is CMU’s online involvement tool that connects students to communities, organizations, opportunities and events. All students are able to log in to thebridge.cmu.edu, using their Andrew ID, to explore opportunities with student organizations, Greek Life and campus events. During the academic year, The Bridge functions as an events calendar for students, so check back regularly to see what's happening on campus.

Civic Engagement

Partners Allied in Civic Engagement (PACE) strives to create engaged citizens while fostering a lifelong commitment to civic engagement, including direct service, philanthropy, activism and advocacy, and issue education and dialogue. They offer opportunities ranging from awareness-raising programs, such as book clubs and documentary screenings; one-time direct service opportunities; or matching you with a longer-term volunteer opportunity at a local community partner. Next year, its educational opportunities will focus on topics related to immigration and refugee support. PACE strives to help you find your passion, more deeply understand social issues and identify direct community service opportunities that fit with your schedule. Don't know where to start? Meet local Pittsburgh agencies and student organizations dedicated to service at the annual Volunteer Fair on Friday, August 31, 2018, from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. in the Rangos Ballroom in the Cohon Center. You can also learn more about PACE’s one-time service opportunities, such as Service Saturdays, at the Volunteer Fair. For more information, visit cmu.edu/slice, email pace@andrew.cmu.edu or call the SLICE office at 412-268-8704.

Learn About CMU's Student Organizations

Meet representatives from our recognized student organizations who make Carnegie Mellon a vibrant, fun and unique campus. Attend the Fall Activities Fair on Wednesday, September 5, from 4:30 – 6:30 p.m. on the lawn in front of the Cohon Center (rain location: Wiegand Gym, Cohon Center).

Faith, Spirituality and Religious Life

Carnegie Mellon is committed to the holistic growth of our students, including spiritual and religious practice and exploration for individuals along the spectrum of spiritual and religious development. Carnegie Mellon encourages an explorative mindset for all students — creating programs and resources for students to pause, engage in self-inquiry and reflect upon and articulate one's moral fabric. CMU Interfaith and Spirituality Initiatives offer programs that cross traditional religious borders to increase our students' knowledge of and appreciation for religious and spiritual traditions different from their own.

The Carnegie Mellon Council of Religious Advisors (CoRA) is a body of local religious leaders organized around supporting and encouraging religious and spiritual life within the campus community. Members of the council provide a variety of services including counseling, educational programming, conferences, worship, discussion groups, social events and religious instruction for the campus community. Additionally, many recognized student organizations focus on faith, spirituality and religion. See thebridge.cmu.edu for a full list.

A multi-faith chapel is located in Cohon Center with a prayer room complete with washing stations. Meal options to accommodate faith-related dietary needs can be found at cmu.edu/dining/our-food/special-dietary-needs.html. For more information, visit cmu.edu/student-affairs/spirituality or contact Mandy Best at mandyb@andrew.cmu.edu.

New students are invited to participate in the Spirituality and Meaning Making Survey at admission.enrollment.cmu.edu/pages/ntie-dates-deadlines. For more information, visit cmu.edu/student-affairs/spirituality.

Want to start a new student organization?

If you are interested in starting a new organization, the staff in Student Leadership, Involvement, and Civic Engagement (SLICE) and the Committee on Student Organizations (CoSo) can help. At Carnegie Mellon, starting a new organization is simple. Learn more at cmu.edu/slice.
Fraternity and Sorority Life

“Going Greek” means joining a community of over 1,000 members — about 20 percent of undergraduates. Learn more about Greek Life at cmu.edu/student-affairs/slice/involvement/greek-life. The Greek community focuses on the following areas:

Leadership
As a self-governed community, fraternities and sororities offer a variety of opportunities for members to develop and apply their leadership skills, create their own experience, have a positive impact and leave a legacy. Time spent in Greek organizations allows students to develop essential soft skills to prepare them for success beyond CMU.

Recruitment for Greek organizations typically happens within the first few weeks of each semester. Depending on the organization, this can be either a formal or informal process. Interested students should research each organization to see what may be a best fit for them. Students are also encouraged to attend Orientation and recruitment events hosted by Greek organizations to learn more about each individual organization and its benefits.

Lifelong Friendships
Greek organizations bring together a diverse group of men and women with similar values in the interest of creating meaningful and long-lasting friendships that will extend long beyond the undergraduate experience. Brothers and sisters also provide mentorship, look after one another’s wellness and seek to empower each other’s personal development. Alumni members provide networking and job opportunities in many professional fields of study.

Scholarship
Each fraternity and sorority chapter provides a unique academic support structure for its members that includes individualized academic plans for members needing academic assistance, peer tutoring, guidance from older members in your major, academic incentives and recognition for strong academic performance. Each chapter sets a minimum Quality Point Average (QPA) to join and remain an active member of the organization.

Service
Whether the impact is felt directly at CMU, in the Pittsburgh region or at a global level, CMU’s Greek organizations are committed to understanding the issues facing our society and how to be positive change agents. This is done through thousands of hours spent performing hands-on service and fundraising for a variety of worthwhile causes. Last year CMU’s Greek organizations spent over 16,500 hours performing service in the community and raised over $325,000.

Late Night
Late Night events are hosted by student organizations, university departments and the Late Night Advisor. Events take place in or around the Cohon Center typically between 10 p.m. and 1 a.m. on various Friday and Saturday nights. Visit cmu.edu/slice or contact late-night@andrew.cmu.edu for more information. Follow SLICEatCMU on Facebook and Instagram for upcoming events.

Leadership Development Opportunities
Throughout the year, the Office of Student Leadership, Involvement and Civic Engagement (SLICE) provides many ways in which students can exercise and develop their leadership skills. You can learn more about opportunities such as the Emerging Leaders retreat for freshmen, the Spring Leadership Workshop in the spring and the variety of leadership-focused seminars and presentations at cmu.edu/slice.
Intercollegiate Athletics

One of the most competitive NCAA Division III athletics programs in the country, the Carnegie Mellon intercollegiate athletics program is a member of the prestigious University Athletic Association. Carnegie Mellon’s intercollegiate programs include cross country, track and field, soccer, basketball, tennis, swimming and diving, football, golf, women’s volleyball and softball.

The Tartans Team Sports Highlights:

• Football team earned back-to-back bowl bids over the past two seasons
• Men’s and women’s soccer programs advanced to the NCAA tournament in 2015 and 2016
• Women’s basketball program won 42 games over the past two seasons
• The athletics department announced the addition of softball as an intercollegiate sport in 2018
• Carnegie Mellon student-athletes have received 128 Academic All-America honors since 1976 — 81 have earned the honor since the 2004–05 season
• In the spring of 2017, 78 student athletes maintained a perfect 4.0 GPA

Varsity Athletics, Recreation and Fitness
Club Sports
The Club Sports program offers members of the Carnegie Mellon University community the opportunity to participate in non-varsity intercollegiate athletic competition and formalized group instruction. Club Sports are recognized student organizations that establish their own leadership, structure, membership requirements, competition schedules, dues and fundraising events. The clubs provide social, competitive, instructional and safe environments based on the common interests of the participating members. The program strives to provide a dynamic learning environment while promoting sportsmanship, skill development and camaraderie through sport and play. Club sports aim to be a model for student leadership — in the way students conduct themselves during events and through the administration of the program. The following team sports are currently recognized on campus as club sports: baseball, cricket, fencing, ice hockey, lacrosse, quidditch, roller hockey, rowing, rugby, skiing and snowboarding, soccer, tennis, ultimate frisbee, volleyball and water polo. Most sports have separate men’s and women’s teams. Visit athletics.cmu.edu/recreation/clubsports for contact information for each club sport.

Facilities
Carnegie Mellon continues to invest in its athletic and recreation facilities over the past few years. Following the addition of its soccer/intramural field in 2010, the university added a state-of-the-art fitness center at the Cohon Center in May 2016. The two-level fitness center has a full weight room, nearly 70 pieces of cardio equipment, two exercise studios and a dedicated cycling studio. The pool received significant renovations and the university will add another fitness center inside the new Tepper School of Business opening this fall.

Group X-ercise
Group X-ercise classes are available to undergraduate and graduate students for free, including Zumba, Yoga, High Intensity Interval Training (HIIT), Kettlebell Cardio, Pilates, Indoor Cycling and Dance Classes, and are offered seven days per week in the state-of-the-art Cohon Center fitness facility. A dedicated cycling studio offers interactive rides through virtual courses. Visit athletics.cmu.edu/fitness/groupx for more information. View the current class schedule at athletics.cmu.edu/fitness/files/classschedule.pdf.

Intramural Sports
Through participation in the Intramural Athletic Program, students are able to keep physically fit, put to use various learned skills, and develop leadership, team play and sportsmanship. It’s a great way to meet students, faculty and staff. Join the thousands of students with different skill levels who annually play in this highly successful program. The intramural program has a diverse offering of sports ranging from soccer to a rock, paper, scissors tournament. Visit athletics.cmu.edu/intramurals/activities for a full list of activities.

Recreational Fitness
Recreational Fitness offers a variety of activities including physical education classes, group exercise classes, fitness workshops, weight rooms and courts for racquetball, squash, tennis, basketball, badminton and volleyball. The goal is to offer members of Carnegie Mellon awareness of the benefits and fun of recreational fitness. Take a lap during Walking Wednesdays held at noon on the track. Special events and programs are held throughout the year to interest as many participants as possible to take the Fitness Challenge. Visit us at athletics.cmu.edu/recreation. To reserve a court for racquetball, squash or tennis or a bike for indoor cycling, visit enrollment.cmu.edu/reservesport/.
Pittsburgh Connections: Weekly Excursion Series

Through a generous grant from the R.K. Mellon Foundation, in partnership with Venture Outdoors and with the support of the Dozzi Family, Carnegie Mellon students are offered the opportunity to engage in a variety of recreational activities and service opportunities located throughout the city of Pittsburgh. Events take place on Saturdays or Sundays throughout the fall and spring semesters and accommodate up to 40 students per trip. Participants may engage in these exciting activities at a significantly reduced cost by reserving tickets on CarnegieMellonTickets.com.

The goals of this program are to help students develop and maintain a physically active lifestyle, build leadership skills and to increase the appreciation for the Western Pennsylvania region. Past activities include: kayaking, hiking, horseback riding, rock climbing and white water rafting. Service opportunities include exploring local neighborhoods and engaging in volunteer work with community partners. More information is available at cmu.edu/slice or by contacting pgh-connections@andrew.cmu.edu.

Arts Pass Program

Carnegie Mellon students are provided free access to several cultural venues throughout the year through the Arts Pass program, including the Carnegie Museum of Art, the Carnegie Museum of Natural History, the Carnegie Science Center and Sportworks, the Andy Warhol Museum, the Mattress Factory, the Heinz History Center, the National Aviary and Phipps Conservatory and Botanical Gardens. This program is sponsored by the Student Dormitory Council, Undergraduate Student Senate, Graduate Student Assembly, College of Fine Arts Dean’s Office, the Office of the Vice Provost for Education and the Office of the Dean of Student Affairs. More information is available at cmu.edu/slice, or by contacting the office of Student Leadership, Involvement and Civic Engagement (SLICE) at 412-268-8704 or email slice@andrew.cmu.edu.

Traveling To Campus

DRIVING DIRECTIONS

Due to construction and detours, please use Google Maps or visit downtownpittsburgh.com/visit/construction-updates.

From the East:
Take the PA Turnpike West/I-76 West (toll road) to Pittsburgh/Monroeville Exit. Follow Interstate 376 West to Edgewood/Swissvale Exit. Turn right onto Braddock Avenue (at the end of the ramp). Continue to the Forbes Avenue intersection (Frick Park will be on the left). Turn left onto Forbes Avenue and proceed approximately three miles to campus.

From the West/North:
Take the PA Turnpike/I-76 (toll road) to Cranberry Exit. Follow the direct highway connection between the turnpike and Interstate 79 South. Get on Interstate 79 South splits. Stay on 279 South toward Pittsburgh. As you near the city, follow signs for 579 South and cross the Veterans Bridge. After crossing the bridge, watch carefully on your right for the 376 East/Oakland exit ramp.

Bear right onto this ramp, which will place you on the Boulevard of the Allies. Continue on the Boulevard of the Allies for approximately 1/2 mile. Do not bear right at the 376 East/Monroeville ramp. Instead, stay left and continue on the Boulevard until the Forbes Avenue Exit off-ramp to the right (the exit will be marked by a small green sign, so watch for it carefully!). Stay in the right-hand lanes, following Forbes Avenue approximately 1.3 miles through the Oakland business district to campus.

From the South:
Take Interstate 79 North to 279 North (following Pittsburgh). Follow 279 North toward Pittsburgh going through the Fort Pitt Tunnel and then onto the Fort Pitt Bridge. Once on the bridge, stay in the far right lanes and follow signs for 376 East/Monroeville. Take 376 East to the Forbes Avenue/Oakland exit. Stay in the right-hand lanes, following Forbes Avenue approximately 1.3 miles through the Oakland business district to campus.

From Pittsburgh International Airport:
Follow 279/376 North toward Pittsburgh through the Fort Pitt Tunnel and onto the Fort Pitt Bridge. Once on the bridge, stay in the far right lanes and follow signs for 376 East/Monroeville. Take 376 East to the Forbes Avenue/Oakland exit. Stay in the right-hand lanes, following Forbes Avenue approximately 1.3 miles through the Oakland business district to campus.
