

A Year in the Life

ANDY WU (MISM '24), VIENNA, AUSTRIA

From the bustling streets of Tokyo to the historic landmarks of Glasgow, this year was filled with so many exciting highlights. Tartans, not only did you excel academically, but you also immersed yourselves in diverse communities and forged connections around the globe.

Thanks for being part of our amazing community. Here's to another year of exploring, learning, and growing together!

GABRIELA PETIT (MCS '25), TANZANIA

Tanzania Awaits

Meet Gabriela Petit, a senior in MCS studying Neurobiology. She's currently immersing herself in the vibrant culture and stunning landscapes of Tanzania through SIT's Conservation and Political Ecology Program. Gabriela shares:

“We’ve spent four weeks on safaris and exploring different regions of Tanzania, as well as cultural immersion with different tribes from East Africa. I’ve met so many people and learned so much about the country and conservation, which has been wonderful. I’ve even had the chance to learn Swahili! If you are interested in wildlife conservation or just want to explore Tanzania, this is the program for you!”

Ready to embark on your own adventure? CMU offers two incredible sponsored programs in Tanzania, and you can even use your CMU financial aid to make this dream a reality! Set up an appointment today to learn more.
