Process

- Contact Partner
- Discuss deadlines, SBIR-STTR topic, Company capabilities, readiness to apply

- Company receives IPart Application outline, reviewed by partner

- If Company plans to work with Professional, contact early

- Invitation from IPart is offered through partner

- Business receives IPart login/password, uploads application
Process – cont.

• Written pre-proposal expert reviews completed w/in 7 days, sent to company

• IPart Investment Committee then makes grant/ voucher decision

• Company makes revisions or works with professional

(4 weeks is not a lot of time!)
Common issues

• Plan ahead – start too late, miss deadlines

• Get most value from expert review – not enough detail, condensed version of actual proposal

• Provide realistic commercial plan – SBDC can help with market research

• Specify scope of research – too broad, be clear

• Voucher – contact consultant early

Solicitation Searches

Open Solicitation Search: Use this search to query on keywords related to your technology to determine if there are any open solicitations for which your company or technology development might be a match.

Closed Solicitation Topic Search: This search enables you to query on technology keywords to see if a solicitation focused on your technology area was issued in the past. Many times the solicitation also gives the name and contact information for the topic author or program manager. You can contact these individuals to find out more about the previous solicitation and see if there is any interest in rejuvenating the topic area for a future solicitation.

Search DOD SBIR Opportunities

Previous SBIR/STTR Awardees Search: This is helpful if you are looking to partner with a specific company in your technology area. You can see what topic the company was awarded funding, when, where and for how much.
