What we do

Hi I’m Tammy Szijarto!
I really appreciate what a great team I had. Even though I’m not tech savvy, I was able to address what I liked and did not like. We as a team were able to make decisions as to what would work best for my new website. The team’s patience was what I appreciated most.

Our Criteria

We accept clients 3 times a year - in our fall, summer, and spring cohorts.

We evaluate client applications based on the following criteria:

1. Maturity (they should have a complete business plan)
2. Size (preferably 1-5 employees)
3. Project scope (is it feasible in a 10 week project)
4. Diversity and Inclusion (we focus on women & minority founders)
5. Mission Alignment (does their objective align with our mission)

Our executive board vote on all client applications.

Appendix
Appendix I: Pricing

Complete package $800 - our service is meant to be affordable for everyone. The $800 price is there so our clients feel like they have skin in the game, which motivates them to work with us closely to deliver a good product. We’ve also found that community organizations are willing to pay some if not all of this price to support their communities.

User testing $350 - user testing can be extremely time consuming, the $350 price is meant to be affordable while compensating us for our time and effort.

Maintenance $40 - most freelance web developers charge $50/hr for their work. We offer high quality work for an affordable price so our clients can take advantage of our maintenance program to improve their website if needed.

62% of companies have reported a mobile responsive website increases sales.

40% of users will not engage with a website that isn’t mobile-friendly.

59% of Millennials will go to Amazon first when online shopping, making the giant online retailer one of your biggest competitors

Retail Brands increase revenue 28% via with ecommerce
Appendix III: Volunteer Application

We recruit volunteers 4 times a year - in our spring, summer, fall and winter cohorts.

Our volunteers find us through our websites, our promotion on campus, and department newsletters at CMU.

We evaluate volunteer applications based on the following criteria:

1. Time commitment (at least 5 hours per week)
2. Relevant skills (prioritize design skills and experience with no-code platforms)
3. Growth potential (can they lead a project in the future)
4. Passion (are they excited about our mission)
5. Interest (why are they volunteering)

Our executive board vote on all volunteer applications
