

FIG. 7.4. A concept map showing the key ideas needed to understand why we have seasons. Many people fail to understand the effect of the inclination of the earth on its axis as the primary cause for summer and winter in both hemispheres.